

HEAVY FROST CAUSES DESTRUCTION

MOTORIST KILLED AND FOUR INJURED SUNDAY

DAYTON COLORED MAN VICTIM WHEN AUTO SKIDS; TWO ARE HELD

Another May Die—Six Arrested at Same Time With Liquor

One man was killed and another is believed fatally hurt at McClellan Hospital here as the result of an automobile accident on the Dayton and Xenia pike, just west of the Xenia corporation limits at 3 o'clock Sunday morning when an automobile containing five colored men, all from Dayton, skidded and turned over.

The dead man is Clyde Thorton, 40 of 618 Weller Street, Dayton, unmarried, who was killed instantly when he sustained a broken neck, Rich Curry, 47, of 613 Weller Street, Dayton, is at the hospital suffering from injuries that may prove fatal. The left side of his chest is crushed and one lung punctured.

Erry Hughley, 40, of 114 Garr Street, Dayton, was removed to his home Sunday from the hospital where he was taken after the accident. He is suffering from fractures of the left shoulder and the left hip.

J. W. Davis, 27, of 1868 Lakeview Avenue, Dayton, driver of the auto and Walter Reynolds, 51, of 171 Howe Avenue Dayton, suffering minor cuts and bruises. They are being held at the County Jail following their arrest at the scene of the accident. Authorities say all of the men had been drinking.

The party was driving toward Xenia when the accident happened. Davis said the auto skidded on the wet pike, turned around toward Dayton and then turned over on the tracks of the Dayton and Xenia traction line.

Thorton, Hughley and Curry were pinned underneath the machine until motorists lifted the machine. Sheriff Morris Sharp was called and took Patrolman Charles Simms with him to the scene. The officers rushed the two injured men to the hospital and sent for Johnson and Watkins undertakers.

When they returned to the scene they were joined by Patrolman Fred Jones. As the ambulance was leaving with the body of Thorton the officers stopped another approaching machine and placed under arrest six Dayton white men, confiscating a quart of whiskey they had.

They were also locked up in the County Jail and gave their names as: Jesse Mefford, Verner McReynolds, Loul Hinders, William Snyder, J. L. Grishop and Harry Ragsdale. McReynolds was driving the auto, liquor, and has not been fined. Ragsdale, Grishop, Mefford and Hinders pleaded guilty to plain drunk and fined $25 and costs each by Judge Wright when arraigned in Probate Court Monday morning. McReynolds and Snyder pleaded guilty to the same charge but has not been fined. Arraigned Monday.

CASHIER OF MANILA BANK IS SUICIDE

Manila, May 25—Fred W. Kenny, cashier of the Philippine Trust Company, former captain in the United States army, committed suicide here today, according to police authorities following an alleged plot on the part of bank subordinates to make it appear he was responsible for a $50,000 shortage.

Vice President McFerran, of the bank, declared Kenny was entirely innocent of any connection with the shortage, which according to McFerran was caused by a plot between a Filipino clearing house clerk and a petty government official.

NO CHANGE IN DEBT COLLECTING POLICY

Washington, May 25—Only as a last resort and when it appears certain that funding of the foreign debts owed the United States cannot be accomplished otherwise, will the Coolidge administration make any radical change in the present debt collecting policy, it was declared officially today.

This attitude upon the part of the president and members of the cabinet was made known to set at rest reports both in this country and abroad that the government was preparing to back down in its demand for the payment of the seven billion dollars now outstanding, under the terms of the existing foreign debt act.

Lost Millions

The three children of Mrs. Guinevere Gould and the late George J. Gould, Jr., George S. ten; Jane S., nine, and Guinevere, three, were eliminated from any share in the $32,000,000 Gould estate by a ruling of Referee James A. Gorman in New York, who, as one outcome of the lengthy litigation over the great trust fund, held that George Gould's second marriage did not come within the terms of the trust.

ARREST MAN WANTED FOR SLAYING OF TWO WOMEN AT COTTAGE

Accused Man Protests He Is Innocent But Submits Quietly To Arrest

Newburyport, Mass., May 25—Harry A. Kirby, accused of slaying Miss Aida Hayward, shooting her aunt, Mrs. Emma A. Towns and setting the Hayward cottage at Winthrop, Maine, afire, was arrested today in a north end lodging house.

Admitting his identity, but protesting innocence of the crimes, charged against him, Kirby was taken to Newburyport police headquarters.

While Kirby was being quietly led from the lodging house here by police officers a bloodhound was penetrating the woods near Bowdoinham, Maine, and a detail of Massachusetts state constabulary was combing the woods at Wilmington.

"I am innocent," declared Kirby, according to the Newbury police. "I found the body of Miss Hayward and I took it to the cottage where it was found and put it between the mattresses."

"I did this to protect somebody else; I'm going to make a full statement later. I wanted to protect somebody but I won't tell who that person is yet."

Kirby came to Newburyport on Saturday afternoon from Augusta and registered at the lodging house of Frank Pond.

Pond recognized photographs of Kirby in the newspapers and called police.

Kirby lay in bed when police entered his room with drawn revolvers. He did not try to escape.

GRAND JURY ASKED TO INDICT SCOPES

Dayton, Tenn., May 25—The Rhea County courthouse today became the center of interest in Dayton as a special session of the grand jury got under way for the single purpose of returning an indictment against John T. Scopes, young high school teacher, for teaching evolutionary theories to his pupils in violation of the mandate of the state legislature. It was the first formal step in the great legal battle that is scheduled to take place in Tennessee to test the constitutionality of laws designed to restrict education.

STRIKE TROUBLE BREAKS OUT ANEW

Moundsville, W. Va., May 25—Mine strike trouble broke out anew here early today, with the bombing of two houses of miners at Glendale, a small mining town, just outside this city. Five arrests followed.

The first bomb wrecked the porch of the house occupied by Harry Smigal. While residents were investigating this blast, another occurred at the house of John Poluski, nearby.

None was injured, but the lives of the father and seven children at the Smigal residence and those of five persons asleep in the Poluski house were endangered.

Anxiety Increases As No Word Comes From Flyers

Oslo, Norway, May 25.—The almost 300,000 people of this capital today were in a state of tense excitement in absence of news of the Amundsen-Ellsworth North Pole fliers, six in number.

Newspaper offices were besieged by anxious crowds and the newspapers put on extra workers to keep open the telegraph, telephone and other means of communication for the receipt and distribution of news.

The steamer Hobby was reported to have returned from an outlook trip along the northern coast lines of Spitzbergen. It was said to have found no trace of the flyers.

Weather experts still insist that although there has been bad weather in the vicinity of Spitzbergen, the Polar weather is good.

Many laymen here are of the opinion that Amundsen may have encountered a storm and descended to avoid it.

Great interest is being displayed here on reports from the United States that the American government may send airplanes to search for the Amundsen-Ellsworth party. It is the general belief in Oslo that Amundsen has reached the pole and descended and is awaiting better weather conditions before returning. It also is believed possible that he may have landed north of Spitzbergen and he has not been able to establish communication with the ships Hobby and Farm.

London, May 25.—The steamship Hobby has returned to Wellman bay, without word of Captain Amundsen's party, according to news agency dispatches. No word had been received from Amundsen at Spitzbergen at 2 p. m. today.

Copenhagen, May 25.—An admittedly unconfirmed report that the Amundsen-Ellsworth North Pole fliers reached Spitzbergen yesterday was circulated here today but was discredited.

PROMISE ACTION IN BLUE LAW ARGUMENT TUESDAY IS REPORT

Attorney Says Move May Be Expected—Sunday Passes Quietly

Predicted action by Attorney F. W. Johnson on behalf of certain unknown clients to force "blue law" observance in Xenia, was not taken Monday but may definitely be expected Tuesday, it was announced.

Attorney Johnson and his clients have outlined two definite plans of procedure that are expected to bring results in the "blue law" demand, but the attorney refused to divulge them Monday, although he admitted they would probably be put into practice Tuesday, saying a conference would first be held with his clients.

Fearful of the consequences of keeping their stores open for business Sunday, a number of Xenia business houses, heretofore, open on Sunday, remained closed. However, cigar stores, restaurants, oil companies and other places conducted business as usual.

Many interested citizens have formed the opinion that action by Attorney Johnson early this week would take the form of affidavits against those business houses remaining open for business Sunday contrary to the provisions of the obsolete state statute governing "Sabbath desecration."

It was the consensus of opinion that information would be gathered Sunday and affidavits filed Monday, with the intention of forcing Prosecutor J. C. Marshall to go to the extreme in his law enforcement campaign and prosecute the issue.

Clients of Attorney Johnson are now, however, harboring another plan which it is believed would obtain the same results. This plan will be announced Tuesday by Attorney Johnson he declared.

GERMANY WILLING TO SIGN TREATY

Geneva, May 25—Germany is willing to sign an international treaty binding all nations to abandon or outlaw all forms of chemical warfare, her delegates to the Geneva conference announced today.

The German announcement came in connection with a move by American delegates to prohibit the exportation of poisonous weapons of warfare. A resolution to this effect was presented to the conference by Representative Theodore Burton and the German delegates promptly supported it.

NINETEEN WILL BE ARRAIGNED IN CASE

Moundsville, W. Va., May 25—In court today will be arraigned nineteen men and one woman for participation in strike riots of April 19, at Glendale, one of the many disturbances that has marked the progress of the coal strike in northern West Virginia.

After the arraignment of the indicted, who are out under $1,000 bond, it will be determined whether or not they will be tried collectively or individually.

The riot at Glendale grew out of an attack upon the home of Robert Crowe, colored, during which Jack Samochiew, Glendale miner, was shot and who is still living in the hospital with a bullet in his brain.

MUSSOLINI GONE

Rome, May 25—There was some anxiety in Rome today as to the whereabouts of Mussolini. He left Rome late Sunday night for the north, but did not arrive at Milan. It is believed he may be at Predappio, near Bologna, where his family lives.

MAY WINTER RESULTS IN DAMAGE ALL OVER COUNTRY IS REPORT

Greene County Suffers From Heavy Freeze—Small Stuff Hurt

Chicago, May 25.—Virtually complete annihilation of the early tomato and bean crops and great damage to corn in the sections where the low temperatures struck over the week end was forecast today, following a survey by agriculture agencies here.

Chicago, May 25.—The "May winter" which swirled out of the northwest late Saturday and kept temperatures near the freezing point over the week-end, still held Chicago and the Midwest in its grip today. The low point of the present frigidify was 37 degrees reached at 9:30 a.m. yesterday and the high was 44 degrees, registered at seven last night.

In the interim, a miniature blizzard swept over the city. One death from the cold was reported. The victim was Hugh McKillop, 15. The day before there had been five deaths from heat prostrations in this district as thermometers climbed to 94, making it the hottest May 22 of record.

SNOW FALLS

Glens Falls, N. Y., May 25.—All records for late snowstorms in this section of the state were broken this morning when an inch of snow fell over Lake George, Warrensburg and other villages north of here.

Because of the high wind, which accompanied the drop in temperature, there was no frost, the weather bureau reported, and for this reason damage to growing crops, it was predicted, will not run as high as had been anticipated.

The forecast today gave promise of "slowly rising temperatures" to nearly normal for the season but warned that no real warm weather was in sight.

The heaviest frost on the latest date remembered Sunday night threatened to spell destruction of garden crops, fruits, corn and early field crops in Greene County.

The extent of the frost damage is subject to conjecture by local growers who differ as to the result of the freeze. According to the Engle Floral Company, the frost has been the heaviest and latest in a number of years, the thermometer standing at twenty-six and one half degrees above zero, at 3:30 o'clock, Monday morning. They declare this is the coldest for the time of the year since 1923, when on May 8 and 9, the thermometer showed twenty-six degrees above, following a frost.

E. J. Lampert of the Engle Floral Company, said the ground was frozen Monday morning and ice covered the green house. Potatoes and grapes are black at the Engle Company and all the tender produce is destroyed, he said, including tomatoes, beans and potatoes.

Potatoes have been the hardest hit, according to Ford S. Prince, county agricultural agent, who talked with several farmers Monday morning about the freeze. Some damage was noticed on the corn, he said, but the full extent of the frost could not be estimated until sun came out warm later in the day and the plants thawed out. The fruit situation will not be known for a few days, he said.

C. K. Wolf, Beaver Creek Township, some time ago, predicted the frost Sunday. Farmers over the county agreed that it was the heaviest for the time of year in a long time.

Stryker and Pagett fruit growers, Stone Road, were more optimistic about the extent of the damage. Much of the smaller produce grown at the Stryker and Pagett farm was under cover and no fear was felt about the larger fruit on the farm. Most of the fear was held for the grapes, raspberries, blackberries, and other smaller fruit but confidence was expressed by Stryker and Pagett that the apples, pears, peaches and cherries were not damaged.

A frost that was as serious in consequence fell last year about May 22. It is said, but the fruit or other crops were only slightly damaged.

Potatoes are practically destroyed over the entire county and district, according to George Lampert of the Lampert Floral Company. The same is true of grapes although some of these may be saved.

Tomato plants were ruined, according to Mr. Lampert, but new plants can be set out again. All beans and other tender vegetables out in the open were destroyed by the frost, he said. According to Mr. Lampert, the latest average freeze in May 15, and this frost was the latest in a number of years, to do so much damage, to his knowledge. Mr. Lampert's thermometer had the temperature of about three below freezing at 3:30 o'clock.

COMMITTEE RETURNS TWO REPORTS URGING ACTION BE DROPPED

Second Controversy To Come To Head Next Thursday

Columbus, May 25.—By an overwhelming vote, the Presbyterian General Assembly, in session here today, adopted the report of the committee on bills and overtures recommending that no action be taken relative to the request of the First Presbyterian Church New York City for approval of its action in the Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick case.

Only a few scattering "noes" were heard when this vote was taken.

The action of the assembly in this matter is the first big victory scored by the "harmony" factions.

Two reports on the case are to be presented by the committee but which would be supported by a majority was not clear as the commissioners gathered for resumption of their sessions. One of the reports will recommend that the assembly drop the case on the ground that the matter is now a closed incident with the resignation of Dr. Fosdick. The other will make the same recommendation but will leave the way open for debate in the assembly after presentation of the report, by a discussion of the case.

The latter report was first signed by a majority of the commissioners but several have since withdrawn their names and signed the first report, and it was unknown which report today would bear the signature of a majority of the committee.

The battle on the floor of the assembly is expected to be staged on a ruling to be made by Dr. Charles R. Erdman, moderator, of Princeton, N. J., blocking discussion of the reports on the ground that such discussion would tend to prejudice the similar but more generalized case comprising the complaints against the New York presbytery relative to licensing of ministers now being debated by the judicial commission.

It was expected a majority of the assembly would support Dr. Erdman's ruling, as the trend of sentiment appears to be toward a harmonizing of the warring factions.

The second big hurdle before the "peace" leaders of the general assembly must be faced Tuesday afternoon when the judicial commission is scheduled to report its decision on the complaint against the New York Presbytery relative to licensing of ministers, who it is alleged, have refused to affirm faith in the virgin birth and other basic tenets of the church.

"Harmony" leaders are planning to force adoption by the assembly of a resolution calling for an investigation of the whole case, if there are indications, when the report is presented, that the radical elements, both modernist and fundamentalist, show signs of desiring to debate the whole issue on the floor of the assembly.

These leaders said today that if the assembly should determine to thresh the case out on the floor adjournment of the sessions would be likely to be deferred for at least two weeks.

Columbus, Ohio, May 25—More than one thousand delegates to the annual General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church were called upon today by Dr. William Chalmers Covert of Philadelphia to a lunch a crusade to perpetuate the Christian home in America. Dr. Covert is general secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education and submitted a report of the work of this body to the general convention.

Dr. Covert called attention to the struggle of the Christian home with the disintegrating influences at work today and said he believed the time was ripe for a movement in which pastors, educators and parents joined for the preservation of the unity of home life.

"Society, as it exists in the world, now rests on the foundation of the social unit we call the home," Dr. Covert said. "If the home dissolves under the stress of modern life the maintenance of organized spiritual life will be next to impossible."

The report of Dr. Covert called attention to the fact that the Presbyterian Church at large is facing a deficit of spiritual leaders and that this deficit is far more difficult to meet than a financial shortage. Presbyterian pastors are dying more rapidly than others are being ordained. Out of every twenty-seven which the Church ordains, the report pointed out, ten come from other denominations. There are only half as many candidates for the ministry today, in proportion to the church membership, as there were in training for the pulpit thirty years ago, the report said.

PLEADS FOR CHURCH UNITY IN ADDRESS TO XENIA AUDIENCE

God's work is accomplished through the personality of the individual and everyone should take his personality and God-given provision was the theme of the inspiring address of Dr. John C. Acheson, president of Macallister College, St. Paul, Minn., former Xenia, at the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday morning.

Dr. Acheson's topic was "Uplifting of Humanity Through Personal Service," and in a rich, mellow voice and with a commanding personality which lent strength to his statements, he brought out many educational points.

He declared that the pages of history are illumined with the names of men and women who have lifted their fellow-beings to higher levels, from sin, suffering and hopelessness to happiness and the realization of their best instincts.

He took his text from Isaiah and brought down the imagery of that day to the present. He strongly urged church unity and the brotherhood of man, world-wide.

Dr. Acheson was a member of a commission of five Americans sent to Europe, during the World War to examine conditions there. The commission visited every battlefield and no phase of the war life was neglected in its search. Many of his points and illustrations were drawn from his experiences.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

That person only is wise who fortifies the body against cold by naturally warming the blood. By exercise, sharp walking, deep and nasal breathing out of doors, and proper food "put your overcoat into your blood", and thus you will be able to resist disease, as well as enjoy health.

A serious cause of disease is the breathing of impure air. Neglect to supply the proper quantity of oxygen is the cause of many very serious ailments. It produces disease frequently in the first instance and is the cause of its continuance in others. Early in the history of the Physical Culture Magazine we called attention to the value of outdoor treatment for consumption. We emphasized the importance of this method of treatment, and the result of our efforts and those of others is seen in the marvelous change that has come about everywhere in the treatment of this complaint.

Consumptives and all kinds of invalids are now being made to sleep out of doors, even in winter, with the most beneficial effects.

The need for a proper supply of oxygen cannot be too strongly emphasized. It is necessary to ward off disease. It is still more necessary to cure disease. It is therefore the duty of every one to cultivate the fresh air habit until the average person may regard you as a fresh air crank. Fresh air cranks are a great source of annoyance to those who insist on closed windows. Yet it is well to secure fresh air at all reasonable hazards in the way of annoying or offending others. Health is a matter of primary importance and is so way is health more surely gained and regained than by continuous breathing of pure, sun-laden, vivifying, moving, fresh, outdoor air, and in no way more quickly lost than by breathing shut in, poison-laden, dead, fetid, heavy, indoor air.

We believe that a note of warning should be sounded to the effect that excess is a great cause of disease.

With prosperity come all sorts of evil influences. By far the worst of these may be termed our excesses. The science of life, to the average individual, is a closed book. He knows little, cares less, of himself and of the science of his natural requirements.

PEOPLE WHO TAMPER WITH FAITH PLAYED IN SERMON SUNDAY

The ruin and sin that is going on in the world today is caused by people tampering with faith in the Christian religion, declared the Rev. Steward P. McLennan, Hollywood, Calif., former Xenian, in an address at the First Reformed Church, Sunday morning.

His subject was "The First Thing in the World," which he said was faith. He gave many beautiful illustrations to bring out his theme and his subject was well handled. The Rev. Mr. McLennan is a strict fundamentalist and has no sympathy whatever with the modernists in the church today.

He told of the building of the handsome church, of which he is pastor, in Hollywood, at a cost of half a million dollars. He is aided in carrying on the work in the movie city by six assistants and they cooperate along the various lines of the social religious and industrial life of the city.

The Rev. Mr. McLennan graduated from the Xenia Theological Seminary when it was located in Xenia.

H. E. RICE BACK FROM FLEET MANEUVERS

Harry E. Rice, Xenia newspaperman who has been with the United States fleet at the Hawaiian islands, for the past two months, arrived home Sunday evening. Mr. Rice had intended remaining with the fleet until the completion of the maneuvers at Honolulu and then go to Australia but learned recently that the fleet would be held at Honolulu until July 1, and then sail for Australia. Rather than wait that erod of time he sailed on "Los Angeles" for California and returned directly to Xenia from Los Angeles.

Mr. Rice was the only newspaperman from Ohio who was included in the large writing staff, and other guests with the fleet. He left Xenia, April 4, for San Francisco and following the entertainment for the fleet there spent fourteen days on the sea enroute to Honolulu. The time spent at the Hawaiian city was a constant round of feasting, according to Mr. Rice. The guests and naval officers were entertained from early morning until midnight by Hawaiian dignitaries and other honorables.

AN EMPTY CROWN

GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS, uncle of the late Czar, has broken his long silence with the announcement that he is willing to lead a movement to drive the Soviets from Russia. Time was when Nicholas was by all means the most powerful of the Romanoffs with the exception of the Czar himself. While in command of the Russian armies Nicholas did well—that is as well as could be expected of a commander whose troops were badly trained and poorly equipped.

The pro German intrigues at Petrograd are supposed to have unhorsed him. What the truth of that matter is we shall probably never know but reports have always been to the effect that the German Czarina and the notorious monk Rasputin were responsible for his downfall. Shortly after Nicholas gave up the command came the avalanche. Since that time he has been living quietly in Italy and France.

What the effect of his announcement will be can only be a matter of conjecture at this time. We fear it will be nil—unless it is used by the Bolsheviks as an excuse for further outrages against people now living in Russia who may be accused of furthering the plans of the Romanoffs. We suspect that Nicholas, now an old man, is as much actuated by a desire to block the ambitions of Grand Duke Cyril to take his place at the head of the Romanoff family, as by any hope of giving battle to the Soviets.

Cyril has proclaimed himself the rightful successor to the Czar but with the exception of his wife we can remember none who agrees with him. He is hopelessly unpopular with the remnants of the old regime.

HOW LEADERS ARE MADE

HAIL to the Prune! Ten years ago prunes were a nickel a dish and considered good enough for the poor man. Now the prune is registered at the Ritz and an order of them denotes wealth on the part of the patron.

Nearly 400,000,000 pounds of dried fruits, valued at over $30,000,000, were exported from the United States last year, or more than double the quantity exported in 1923. Prunes made up 55 per cent of the shipments, and raisins 23 per cent. The prune has come into its own at home and abroad.

Our biggest prune purchaser is Germany, and the American prune may have something to do with the disposition of the Germans to forget the war and get down to business. Next to Germany, England is our best customer for dried fruits, her purchases in 1924 being four times those of the pre-war period and double those of 1923. Canada also ranks high as a purchaser. But the policy of imperial tariff preferences which is being put into operation by the British Empire will probably be felt ere the year passes.

There is now awaiting the ratification by Canada of a trade agreement with Australia which will give the latter a free Canadian market for dried fruits, while the general Canadian duty thereon is to be advanced from two-thirds of a cent to three cents a pound. Australian dried fruits are also to have a free market in Great Britain, while American fruits will pay protective rates. But the prune will continue to strut its stuff, for Australia confines its interest to raisins and currants.

And how is it that the prune has come to the front? How was it that the orange became such a popular fruit? How was it that raisins became famous for their "iron"? How is it that people have come to "eat more peanuts"? Through advertising. Through an educational campaign of national magnitude. Through the same methods which are followed out by every successful producer or retail merchant.

THE OLD CLOTHES CRY

I met him in his garden where he toiled with hoe and spade, I stopped to view his roses and the pansy bed he'd made, And I noticed he was wearing evening dress and fancy shoes—Which is not the sort of raiment busy gardeners ought to use.

"Why the soup and fish?" I asked him, and I laughed to hear him say: "That wife of mine has given all my other clothes away."

"Listen, neighbor, listen to my little tale of woe. The wife and I were married nearly twenty years ago, I've told her time and time again to leave my clothes alone. But I have never had a pair of pants to call my own;

I've set aside old suits, old shoes, for gardening in the spring. But when I've gone to get them out she hadn't left a thing.

"I've hoarded suits for fishing trips and hunting trips to be, Now there's an army wearing clothes that once belonged to me! I've said: 'When gardening time returns, these duds I'll want to wear.' But when I've gone to get them out I couldn't find them there; That wife of mine will never let a garment rest a day. I think she has a mania for giving duds away."

thick with mud and clay; I'm teaching her a lesson, though these duds will be a mess I'm gardening in the only other suit which I possess. I'm trying to convince her, though I doubt if that can be. That charity begins at home, and ought to start with me."

Cuban Beef Roll: Buy one pound of hamburger steak. Mix with it one cup of bread crumbs, three peeled, minced onions, one green sweet pepper which is minced (with seeds removed) one teaspoon of salt, and one beaten egg. Form this mixture into a long roll on a greased baking pan, lay six strips of uncooked bacon over it, and slip into a moderate oven (covered) to bake for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot with tomato catsup.

Ham Dabs: Grind broiled, or baked, ham in your food chopper, then add to one cup of it one cup of bread crumbs, one tablespoon of melted butter, a dash of black pepper, and three-fourths of a cup of sweet milk. Mix well, then form into small mounds on a greased pan. Take a small, clean china cup and make a little depression or "well" in the top of each of these mounds. Slip the pan into a hot oven to bake for about five minutes (or till the mixture is heated through) then half slip it out of the oven, break an egg into the depression on the top of each hot little mound, and push pan back into the oven for a few minutes—till the eggs are "set." Serve at once, lifting the mounds or dabs from the pan by means of a pancake turner.

Cottage Pie: This dish consists of equal parts of left-over cooked potato and left-over cooked meat, seasoned, and mixed well with a little tomato juice or gravy (or simply hot water) added to moisten, then baked till very hot and crusted over in a good oven. In this week's menu I assume you will boil a double quantity of white potatoes on Wednesday evening, for dinner, so as to have enough cooked left-over potato to use with the roast lamb left-overs to make a dish on Thursday night.

MISS ROGERS GAINED 15 POUNDS IN 6 WEEKS

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back.

My dear Friends:
After my attack of Flu I was thin, rundown and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunk in and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pounds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 204 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollows in cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 Tablets—60 cents at—Sayer's and Hemphill's Drug Store and live druggists everywhere. If they don't give you wonderful help in 30 days, get your money back—you be the judge. But be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine. Adv.

was of marked success from every angle.

So perfect was the rendition of each number that the audience was held spell bound despite the fact that the performers had planned not to respond to encores, due to the length of the program, they were so stormed with applause that they were compelled to. This affair has so eclipsed every thing in the musical lines ever given by local talent that the participants have been besieged with congratulations.

Elyria, May 25—Police Chief Stankard has declared that no complaints have been received and, so far as he knew, there have been no violations here of the law relative to obscene papers and pamphlets being on sale at the newsstands against which the Ohio W. C. T. U. is making a concerted drive.

BABIES

One great fault about this competitive age is that the babies are too much neglected. The babies are not getting an even break.

I like babies. Today on my way to work I passed one just able to strut along. Its little legs knocked at the knees, and its sense of importance—three years importance I would say—dominated the street.

Instinctively, strong men and big wagons look out for the babies. I wouldn't trust a man or a woman who didn't love babies. Or whose heart did not soften at the sight or the touch of its velvet hand.

"For of such is the Kingdom of Heaven!"

It's babies that keep this world together. They lubricate the very axis of the earth. The love and care of a baby will add ten years to any man's life and take that much away if he doesn't have one with which to play. And I would double this when applied to a woman.

One of the reasons for such great unrest among women is that they have so few babies and so many dogs. Imagine the blessed prattle of a baby as against the bark of a dog! I love dogs, too. But babies first and foremost always.

My favorite pictures of Presidents Roosevelt and Wilson are those in which they are holding a grandchild baby. They are both greatest there. All rights belong to the babies. God bless them!

GOD HAS PLAN FOR EVERY MAN'S LIFE PASTOR TELLS GRADUATES AT BACCALAUREATE

"God has a plan for every man's life," was the opening sentence of Dr. F. W. Stanton, pastor of the First M. E. Church, at the baccalaureate exercises of the graduating class of Central High School, held at that church Sunday evening.

Dr. Stanton's address, on "The God-planned Life," was based upon the text in Heb. 8:5: "See that thou make all things according to the pattern showed to thee in the mount."

Dr. Stanton said in part: "Moses was not to make any alteration in the pattern of the Tabernacle which God gave him in the mountain. He was only the builder, God was the architect. 'Wrecked lives all about us testify to the fact that men have been tinkering with God's plan for their lives.' James Russell Lowell was right when he said, 'No man is born into this world whose work is not born with him.' But a man's work is only a part of the great plan God has for his life."

"God has a purpose in every cloud floating across the summer sky; in every blade of grass on the hill side; in every dew drop wetting the lips of a dying flower. Why should we not believe He has a plan and purpose in every immortal soul? The architect has a plan for his house, the artist an outline for his painting, the ship builder a model for his master ship. Why should not God, who loves us, have a plan for our lives? I once worked in a chair factory, where all machines were set by pattern. It is a mistake was made in setting the machine, perfectly good pieces of walnut, oak or cherry, were spoiled, and had to be thrown on the scrap pile.

"Man may miss God's plan for his life, and be ruined here, and go to the scrap heap hereafter. However, God has given every man the power to choose, and he can choose God's plan, or choose a plan of his own. The former means success, the latter means ruin. The engineer of the great Brooklyn bridge was injured in the beginning of the work. For months he lay in his room, while his wife carried the plans to the workmen. When the work was finished he asked to be carried to the bridge. As he looked at it all over and compared it with the blue prints, he exclaimed in an ecstasy of joy, 'It is just like the plan, it is just like the plan!'

"Where shall we find God's plan for our lives? Like Moses, we shall find it in a mountain. Not Mt. Sinai, or Mt. Seir, or Mt. Carmel, but in Mt. Calvary. Jesus Christ is the magic plan for every man's life, for Paul says, 'We are created in Christ Jesus unto good works.' How shall we find the plan in Christ except as we come to Christ.

"We summon all members of this fine graduating class to this holy mount of privilege, and ask you to take Christ as the perfect pattern for your lives, for time and eternity." The church auditorium and adjoining rooms were crowded for the service. The program opened with the class processional, in caps and gowns, with the organ prelude by Miss Louise Wood, a member of the graduating class. The introduction of caps and gowns to the closing high school exercises, this year, added a solemnity and dignity to the service.

The invocation was pronounced by Dr. V. F. Brown, of Trinity M. E. Church. Music was furnished by the Girls' Glee Club of Central High School. Dr. J. P. Lytle, of the First U. P. Church, read the Scripture Lesson and Dr. C. P. Prouditt, of the Second U. P. Church, led in prayer. John Collins, another member of the class, sang a solo.

Dr. Stanton's address was followed by another number by the glee club, the closing hymn and prayer by Dr. D. A. Sellers of the First Reformed Church.

ZIMMERMAN

The May meeting of the Community Club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Harry Haverstick. Sixteen persons were present. The club voted to purchase a shanty for the school yard next to the Xenia Pike, which vote was carried into effect a few days later when spires, and other plants were set out. Mr. Luther Snyder, local florist, generously donated a number of plants and shrubbery.

Four new members, Miss Louise Trehanne, Mrs. Lewis Alexander, Mrs. Charles Stewart and Mrs. Homer Koogler, were added to the roll. Refreshments of peaches and ice cream and cake were served. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bailey and Mrs. Emma Engle were recent Sunday guests of Mrs. Bailey's son, Roy Fox, and family, in Dayton.

A very complete and delightful surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson Mothers Day, when they returned from church to find all of their eight children and their families gathered at their home in honor of their thirty seventh wedding anniversary. Mr. Johnson's birthday and Mother's Day. Mrs. Johnson was sent a handsome bridge lamp. Chelsea Stoop, Ed Blake and Mrs. Charlie Stewart have been seriously ill with acute indigestion.

The Faithful Workers Sunday School Class met at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Haverstick Thursday evening. A Bird Guessing Contest was enjoyed. Mrs. I. M. Coy won first prize and Mildred Stewart drew the second prize there being six persons guessing the second highest number. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served. The June meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coy.

The Beaver Creek Tp. Mass Day program was a very enjoyable affair. The Cantata, Mistress Mary's Choice was well rendered. The costumes were pretty and appropriate. The patriotic finale and abouss scene were especially beautiful and inspiring. The teachers of the schools and Mr. W. R. Sayrs deserve great credit for their excellent training and efforts.

The orchestra from the grades was also a feature of the program as was also several selections by the High school orchestra.

The highest appreciation is due Mr. Sayrs, music director for his untiring efforts with the children. The talk by Mr. Collins and address by Superintendent Zuber were good. Much regret is felt at losing Mr. Collins from the high school faculty and as township superintendent, as he leaves shortly to teach in a College in Egypt.

A. D. Wenrick left Thursday evening for a trip to Colorado and other points in the west.

Floyd Moler and family of Springfield spent Sunday with his grandfather, Cornelius Zimmerman and mother Mrs. Nettie Moler.

MINISTER SEES SINISTER MOVE IN ELECTION OF HINDENBURG IN MEMORIAL ADDRESS

"The Three Hindenburg Lines" was the subject of the address of Dr. Charles P. Prouditt, pastor of the Second U. P. Church, at the memorial services held by Joseph P. Foody Post, American Legion, at the Legion Headquarters, Sunday afternoon.

"I wish to speak today of three Hindenburg lines: the Hindenburg line of yesterday, the Hindenburg line of today and the Hindenburg line of tomorrow," Dr. Prouditt said in opening.

"The Hindenburg line of yesterday is forgotten by multitudes who have no empty chair at their table or no crumple in their family. The last living doughboy of the A. E. F. is home. Leniency has succeeded asperity. Palliation has taken the place of suspicion.

"It is the popular thing to erase from memory all traces of the Hindenburg line that stretched its dragon form for 250 miles with its crested head resting in Alsace, its claws on Verdun and its tail at Ypres. The new National Museum at Washington will recall these harrowing days to the young generation. But you and I are urged by the pacifist not to visualize this unduly. It is a distinct shock to come face to face with the Hindenburg line of today.

"What relation does President Hindenburg bear to the Field Marshal? Are the aims of the two antithetical? Have we been misinformed when we are told that the World War was merely a product of the War Lords? Is there acceptance of responsibility for Prussianism by 14,600,000 votes out of 30,000,000 voters who registered for this hero? Are we facing a possible Renaissance of Hohenzollernism?

"These and similar questions come to the lips of the truly patriotic. I place myself frankly among those who have disquieting fears. Memorial days are absolutely essential to keep us from forgetting the horrors of the war-lord policy. Orr, the great cartoonist of the Chicago Tribune, gave us a memorable lesson in his picture, 'The Chief Joins His Forces,' President Wilson and the missions of Allies who went west have a perfect right to ask whether the return of the goose step in Germany means the return of goose flesh in France and among the Allies. We may well think in terms of 'The Hindenburg Line to Tomorrow.'

"By this I mean 'the world's greatest menace' whether it is continental or American. If yesterday's supreme menace to civilization was the Hindenburg line, what are the menacing forces which jeopardize our American Commonwealth today? We are not a 'solid Americanism.' The Civil War veteran and the American Legionnaire taught us lessons in preparedness and courage that we dare not forget. America's Hindenburg line may be commercial; it may be racial, it may be moral.

"American's Run Row must be erased from the high seas. Constitutional reverence must be the habit of every patriot. Murder, crime, selfishness, must be unthinkable by religion. 'If Charles Elliot Norton was right when he said, 'I conceive Lincoln's character to be on the whole the great net gain of the war' then individual character must be the subliminal deposit from these recurring Memorial Days."

An audience that filled the Legion headquarters attended the services. The program opened with the singing of "America" by the audience, accompanied by Miss Helen Hurley. A few remarks on the observance of Memorial Day were made by J. I. Fealy, commander of Foody Post.

Miss Leona Keller, accompanied by Mrs. Willfred Faulkner, sang "Our Great United States," and "The Blue Boy."

"The Star Spangled Banner" was sung following Dr. Prouditt's address and he closed the service with benediction.

POPPY SALE HERE IS LESS THAN EXPECTED

Members of Joseph P. Foody Post No. 95, American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary felt disappointed in the results of "Poppy Day" in Xenia, Saturday.

In comparison with other cities near the size of Xenia, the sale here was low, less than 1,000 of the scarlet flowers being sold to Xenia, Bellefontaine, which is near the size of Xenia, sold 4,000, poppies, Legion Auxiliary members say.

Seventeen hundred poppies were made and bought by the local organizations for the sale here and several hundred were left. Members of a high school girl's club canvassed the stores and streets during the day.

The proceeds of the sale amount to about $100, which will be used for rehabilitation work among ex-soldiers and for the benefit of veterans' families.

Miss Frances Ambuhl, a teacher at Jackson Center, O., is confined to her home on East Market Street, with an attack of grip.

Construction work was begun Monday for a six-room residence by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fletcher at California Street and Cincinnati Avenue.

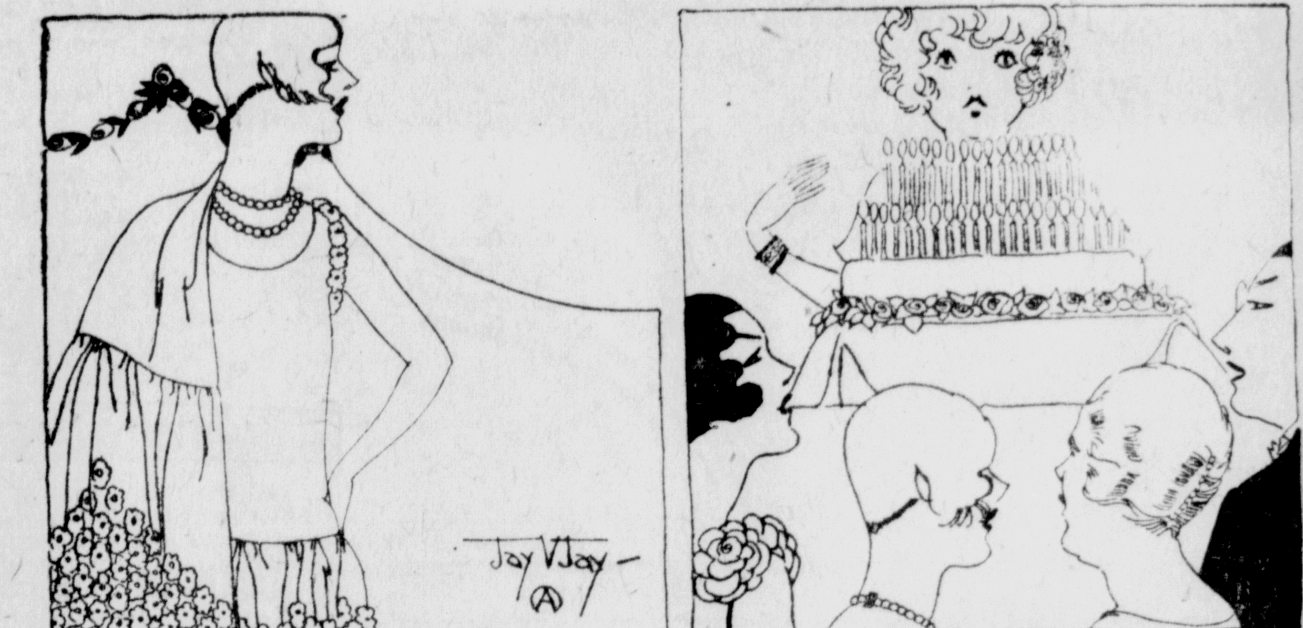

MODISH MITZI—Polly Put 80 Candles On Her Cake

By JAY V. JAY

One of the nicest things about a birthday party is the clothes one wears—and also the clothes one's guests wear. Polly admires tremendously Mitzi's sheer silk evening wrap that is half a cape.

Polly's frocks are always as bouffant as possible and this is an especially becoming one of embroidered taffeta. Adelaide has the newest sort of evening wrap—and a coat of metal cloth lined in chiffon.

Eleanor wears one of the evening ensembles of chiffon—a bouffant dress and cape trimmed with tiny flowers made from ribbon to match. Each flower center is a single colored bead and her necklace is the same shade.

And who shall question Polly's discretion? She is less than 20 to the full knowledge of every person present—the fact that she has put 80 candles on her cake can only indicate a canny caution for the future.

DWIGHT WARE WINS SECOND PLACE IN MILE RUN AT MEET

East High School made a fair showing in the B division of the Ohio High School interscholastic track and field meet at the Ohio State University stadium, Columbus, Saturday.

Dwight Ware, star East miler, won the distinction of being known as the second best miler in the B division of Ohio High Schools by taking second place in the mile run.

Ware's time for the distance was 4:37.4, exactly one second behind the winner, who beat the East representative to the wire by scarcely a foot to take first place in the event.

Ware took first place honors in the mile run in the southern division of Ohio high schools track and field meet held at Oxford, O., and is considered one of the best athletes ever turned out at the East Market Street school.

The East relay team, which took first place in the southern division meet, could only place third in its elimination heat Saturday making the distance of one mile in 3:48 which was much slower time than last Saturday's performance.

Bernard Ware, the other East representative at Columbus, failed to qualify in the 220 yard dash event which he won at Oxford last Saturday.

Bell Point, with 29 1-2 points, won the Class B section of the meet and Montpelier was second with 19 1-2 points. Hughes High, of Cincinnati, won the class A division over the favorite, Lakewood, of Cleveland, by piling up 22 1-5 points, Lakewood was second with 21.

Aided by a strong wind, records fell thick and fast before the onslaught of Ohio high schools' star athletes in the annual state championships, and many new marks were made, none of which will be allowed to stand because of the high wind which aided the athletes.

East High School's track team will lose Bernard Ware and Jones from the relay and dash events by graduation this year, but the prospects are that the school will be represented by even a better track team next year.

DAYTON STIVERS TO FORFEIT VICTORIES WHEN RULES BROKEN

School officials have been conducting what is believed to be a needed "spring cleaning" in athletics at Stivers High School of Dayton and it has become known through Athletic Director R. W. Worst and Coach Harry Wilhelm that the Dayton school has been forced to forfeit all victories won in the football campaign.

It is charged that Stivers played through the gridiron program with two members of the team above the age limit of twenty years, in violation of regulations of the state association that all athletes become automatically ineligible after attaining the age of twenty years.

It has long been rumored that certain players on the Dayton school team were ineligible and the matter came to a head several days ago when Ray Otto, Stivers all-around athlete, admitted he was twenty-two years of age last fall when engaging in interscholastic contests.

The startling probe was first brought on when Steele, of Dayton questioned the eligibility of certain Stivers baseball players. Next followed the resignation of Coach Harry Wilhelm and then Otto came clean with an admission of his ineligibility.

It is hard to believe that Otto could have played in violation of the age limit without the knowledge of Stivers school officials.

Other rumors, not verified, point out that Otto's parents wished him to quit school and go to work but that the Stivers faculty manager provided the athlete with clothes in order that he might continue his school work and athletic career.

Nor has Roosevelt High School of Dayton escaped the limelight, and the Steel-Roosevelt baseball game Friday was played under protest when the eligibility of a number of the Teddy Bear players was questioned by a members of the Steele team.

KELLY COMPANY LOSES FIRST LEAGUE TILT WHILE RAILROADERS CUT SLUG TILTON NINE

BY L. J. WONES

The R. A. Kelly baseball team, leaders in the Saturday Afternoon League, were handed their first defeat of the season Saturday at Washington Park by the Hooven and Allison nine by a 5 to 4 score in a fast and interesting game.

Although the ropemakers were beaten they still sat at the top of the heap with three won and one lost. The H. and A. and Pennsylvania Railroad are tied for second while Tiltons are in the cellar.

The game was a pitcher's battle between Cyphers and Wells of the H. and A. and Milburn of the Kellys. Cyphers worked four rounds and retired in favor of Wells who worked the last three innings and held the leaders to a lone hit while he fanned five. Both were given good support and only two boots were made behind them.

Milburn lost his first game this season. Prior to this game he had won three straight. The defeat could not be charged to him alone as loose fielding by his mates let the winners score a pair of tallies.

Cyphers starred for the winners getting a triple with two men on. His sacrifice fly in the seventh scored Cox from third and won the game for the H. and A. nine.

"Grumpy" Milburn did not show any love for his brother Earl, who was pitching for the Kelly bunch, and got a double and single off him and scored two runs.

Early, Ritter and W. Leachey played best for the losers. Ritter was up four times and got two hits off Cyphers while he punched twice against Wells. Early got one blow that scored a run while W. Leachey got a single and triple out of three trips to the pan. He made three nice catches in left field.

The Kellys stepped out and got Milburn an early lead scoring a tally in the first round and again the third and fourth. In their half of the fifth the H. and A. staged a rally that netted them a trio of runs that tied the score at three all. Milburn's double, Cyphers' triple, Murrell's single and an error by W. Leachey let them score.

Wells retired the Market Street bunch in order in the sixth while Milburn did likewise with the H. and A. In the seventh W. Leachey led off with a triple to left and scored on an error a few moments later. Milburn and Ritter fanned while Owens went out on a grounder to Cox.

The H. and A. came to bat with a 4 to 3 score against them and after Briggs popped to Early, Milburn singled and went to third on Cox's hit to center and scored on Bennington's wild heave to third. Cyphers flied to Berger in deep right and Cox scored after the catch.

The second game between the Pennsylvania and Tiltons was a slug-fest match that was won by the former team by a 15 to 13 score.

The winners used three hurlers. Jones working until the sixth and retired with the score tied at eleven all. Fuller went to the rubber and pitched a round and then Bottorff twirled the last inning. Jones pitched nice ball and was given good support but he was very wild, walking seven men and five of these proved costly.

Regan was on the hill for the losers and was given rotten support by his mates. He fanned five and walked four. He was hit rather hard as the railroaders got thirteen safe blows off him. Had he been given better support the score might have been different.

The winners scored in every inning but the second and fifth. Tiltons

The schedule will be resumed this week Wednesday and Friday nights because of the Decoration Day game Saturday. The Pennsy nine will play the H. and A. team Wednesday at 6 p. m. with the Kellys and Tiltons hooking up Friday at 6 p. m. at the Washington Park diamond.

Went hitless and runless for the first three rounds but rallied in the fourth and got three runs. In the fifth they took advantage of Jones' wildness and coupled with two hits they scored seven runs which tied the score at eleven all. The railroad bunch came right back in the sixth and proceeded to win the game when Murray doubled with two men on the sacks. They scored another pair of tallies in the seventh on two hits and three errors.

EAST HIGH NOTES

A very lovely affair of the past week was the third Annual Passing Party given by the Twentieth Century Club at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Clark. The guests were members of the eighth grade who are to be promoted to high school.

In the welcome address given by the president, Mrs. Carrie Singer a special appeal was made to the pupils to continue their education and make worthy men and women.

The prize for highest scholarship was awarded to Miss Malvena Campbell after which games and refreshments were enjoyed by those present.

The junior-senior banquet was held Friday evening in East High Auditorium. The decorations were beautiful and very elaborate.

Tables for four were used and a for course luncheon was served. With the dim lights of the candles and the dainty frocks of the girls a scene of marked beauty was exhibited to many.

The baccalaureate sermon for the class of '25 proved to be one of the most marked occasions of the Commencement program.

A wonderful sermon was preached by the Rev. T. C. Hammond and music was furnished by his choir.

Wednesday night, the Junior High promotion exercises will be held in the East High auditorium. Literary and musical numbers will be rendered by the class. Prof. Maloney of Wilberforce University will deliver a short talk on promotion.

Thursday evening promptly at 8 o'clock the forty-sixth annual commencement exercises will be held at the Opera House. H. P. Jones D. D. of Pittsburgh will deliver the commencement address. Ten boys and seven girls will receive diplomas.

Here is Romance! Here is Adventure! Here is Humor! Here is Drama! There is much more to this picture than the name implies. There is much more than the remarkable story of the greatest man America ever produced. There is a wonderful tale so big it will remain immortal. So don't miss it. "Abraham Lincoln!"

CHARLES S. DEAN, 65, DIES EARLY MONDAY

Charles S. Dean, 65, well known farmer, passed away Monday morning at 5 o'clock, at his home, five miles east of Xenia. He suffered a stroke of paralysis about six weeks ago but seemed to be improving. About half an hour before his death, he complained of feeling weak and before a physician could arrive he succumbed.

Mr. Dean was born and reared in the Dean Homestead, one mile east of his present home. He was the son of Susan and William Dean, pioneer resident of Greene County, who preceded him a number of years ago. A sister, Mrs. Anna Dean Baldock, passed away two years ago.

Mr. Dean was twice married, his first marriage being to Ida May Smith who, after three years of wedded life, passed away. He was united in marriage with Deborah L. Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Spencer, of Xenia, September 18, 1889. To this union was born one son, Herbert. Besides his widow and son, Mr. Dean leaves two grandchildren, Russell and Lorena; two sisters, Miss Letitia Dean and Mrs. E. T. Ballard; one brother, W. A. Dean, Newton Falls, O. G. E. Spencer and H. E. Spencer of this city are brothers-in-law of the deceased.

Funeral services will be held at the home, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, fast time, with interment in Dean Cemetery.

BAYLIFFS HALTED BY STORM SUND

Rain forced the abandonment of a scheduled baseball game between the Bowersville Bayliffs and the Xenia Nighthawks at Bowersville Sunday afternoon and the Bayliffs were forced to remain idle for the third straight Sunday.

A driving rain carpeted the diamond with water and made the staging of a game an impossibility.

Providing the rain hood does not again appear next Sunday, the Bayliffs will play a game with the Treble baseball team, the management announced Monday. Wells will probably work in the box for the Bayliffs with Murrell receiving.

TUESDAY WILL BE BARGAIN DAY IN XENIA

HISTORIC SPOT IN JAPAN TO BE SITE OF U. S. MONUMENT

Tokyo, May 25.—When Commodore Perry, seeking to open the door which Japan had kept tightly closed against the Western World for centuries, appeared off the Japanese coast in 1854.

El-ichi Shibusawa was a little boy of fourteen. Like all the other little boys of Japan, and the men and women as well, El-ichi was terrified at the sight of those huge "Black Ships" bearing men who, to the Japanese mind, could not be anything else but hostile to the people of the Mikado's domain.

Although terrified, El-ichi Shibusawa was brave. He was ready to die, if need be, to keep the invading white men from despoiling the lands of his Emperor. So he swallowed the lump of fear that rose in his throat, buckled on his sword and swaggered forth, breathing defiance to the strange men from America.

VISIT FRIENDLY
Perry and his men ultimately persuaded the head men of the Japanese nation that their mission was friendly and they meant no harm to the Japanese people. As history records, Perry negotiated the first treaty of trade and commerce between Japan and the United States and laid the foundation of Japanese-American friendship.

Although his childish mind could not then comprehend the significance of all that was transpiring, El-ichi Shibusawa soon saw that the Americans were not the enemies of his country that he had at first supposed them to be, and his mistrust and resentment against them soon died away.

Today this lad of fourteen, who took up arms in childish wrath when the Americans appeared, is Viscount Shibusawa, eighty-five years old, the Nestor of Japanese banking and one of the most influential financiers in the country. He is now regarded as one of the staunchest friends of America in the Sunrise Kingdom.

HONOR AMERICANS
An evidence of how greatly Shibusawa's attitude toward Americans has changed since that faraway day when he wanted to fight the men from Perry's ships is afforded by the announcement just made that the aged nobleman is to erect, at his own expense, a monument on the spot where the first American flag was raised on Japanese soil.

The office to erect the monument was made by Viscount Shibusawa to Edgar A. Bancroft, the American ambassador, a few weeks ago. It was one of the factors that inspired the recent trip of Ambassador Bancroft to Shimoda, the little seaport town where Townsend Harris set up the first American consulate in Japan and raised the first American flag to float above the soil of Nippon.

During his visit to Shimoda Ambassador Bancroft took pains to locate the exact spot where Harris planted his flagpole. He discussed the project with the head men of the village and found the people of Shimoda decidedly favorable.

Accordingly, plans are now going forward for the procuring of an impressive shaft of granite, which will be erected on the spot where Harris erected his crude flagpole. A bronze tablet, suitably engraved, will adorn the shaft and explain its significance.

It is expected that the monument will be ready for unveiling some time within the next year, and Ambassador Bancroft is looking forward to another pilgrimage to Shimoda to participate in the ceremonies.

The floors are being revarnished, the furniture polished and everything put in top-notch shape for the Presidential approval.

EXCELLENT LOCATION
"I've been here all winter," said Jerry, "and I expect I'll be here all summer. I know the place from top to bottom; know just how much coal it takes to heat it in the winter, and how much ice to order to keep things cool in the summer."

White Court is in an excellent location. The front of the house commands a view over the ocean, and the rear entrance is reached by a driveway. A large veranda encircles three sides of the structure, and a sun porch and breakfast room flank the rear of the mansion.

A large living room, adjoined by a library, and a French drawing-room are on the first floor, and five bedrooms and baths take up most of the space on the third floor.

LUXURIOUSLY FURNISHED
All of the rooms are luxuriously furnished. Bright-colored cretonnes and pastel wall tints give them a refreshing appearance. Most of the furniture is of the light, wicker variety.

The breakfast room is charming, with its rose and cream-colored wicker.

Two swimming pools, cut into the rocks, overhanging the ocean, will afford the Coolidges the choice of ocean bathing or a plunge into the smaller depths of a pool.

White Court is surrounded by other luxurious mansions. Red Gables, the summer home of Frank W. Stearns, is nearby.

The estates of Charles Beard, Charles E. Brushe, Thomas W. Proctor and others are within short walking distance.

TUESDAY BARGAIN DAY IS PERMANENT BUYING FEATURE

Tuesday will be bargain day in Xenia.

Xenia merchants are co-operating on the plan to make Tuesday a special sale day as a permanent feature of Xenia merchandising.

The first bargain day will be Tuesday, May 26, and each successive Tuesday thereafter will find merchants offering special sales programs on that day. Merchants plan to make their bargains so attractive on Tuesday, that the day will equal Saturday as a shopping day and they hope to popularize the new plan on the first Tuesday.

The bargain day plan was adopted after a conference of merchants in which they adopted this system to shift bargain hunters to the early part of the week. Merchants believe they can prepare each Monday a choice lot of bargains to be offered to the public on the day following and that the Tuesdays of the future will be a buying holiday for Xenia and Greene County people.

Many branches of merchandising are represented in the agreement reached between merchants, so that buyers can satisfy all of their wants during the one-day shopping trip. Choice bargains will be offered by the merchants each Monday on this special page in Monday's paper and the business men who are planning the sales program anticipate lively interest from the buying public in the new plan.

Its virtues not only lie in the fact that merchants will vie with each other in offering attractive goods at bargain prices, but that it will enable these buyers to be accommodated weekly and on a day in the week when clerks are prepared to cater to their wants. Thus successive Tuesdays are expected to be similar to one long sale, in which all merchants will combine, systematizing an advantageous arrangement for shoppers.

Buyers should keep the first bargain day in mind for the business men will offer especially attractive prices in their effort to start the new program off right.

TIME MAY DESTROY OTHER RECORDS AS IN CASE OF SCOTT

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, May 25.—Time being inexorable and age a furtive shadow, speculation has become general as to which of the modern record makers will be the next to turn up his involuntary toes, after the manner of Everett Scott of the New York Yankees. Scott was dropped from the line-up on May 6 after appearing in 1,307 consecutive ball games, a non-stop record that probably will live always.

HOROSCOPE FOR TODAY
The position of Neptune makes it unwise to go swimming today. So you must content yourself with taking a bath in the Creek. Mars is in an evil place, making it quite an unfavorable date for slapping Jack Dempsey in the nose.
Williams Jennings Bryan should avoid announcing his candidacy for the president of the U. S. today. This is by no means a lucky wedding day (none of them are.) Persons who marry today will have many misunderstandings come to them.
Children born today will yearn for adventure but should not be allowed to have dates for a few weeks at least. Girls contemplating matrimony should be able to talk prospective bridegrooms into prolonged honeymoon trips today, as this is an unlucky day for them.
Today is read as most unfavorable for buying fake oil stocks and land in Florida. It is not considered best to throw stones at the neighbor's children nor to horseplay your grandmother today. Be careful if offered a sip of anything to drink.
Beware of solicitors. Don't take in any Wooden nickles nor wooden soldiers. Forest Hurley will not find this a favorable date for riding a tricycle down the sidewalk on Green Street. Wise men and women will not delay in investing in subdivisions.
George Wheeler should not even attempt to take the Hammer Club picture today. His camera will surely be broken in the attempt. It is a very inopportune time for motorists to falter to stop at "Stop" signs. It is an ideal time to read all of the ads on this page. Now do it.

MONEY AT WORK
Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments
Stone Age implements built no surplus
Primitive man had to work as long as they wished to continue living. Because of the power of accumulation and investment, all this has been changed.
Due to poor facilities the primitive man could produce little, if any, more than was necessary to live from week to week. When methods gradually improved, it was possible to create a surplus over and above the actual needs of life.
These methods have advanced so far that today a man who saves a little week by week and stores up enough of a surplus can support himself comfortably without effort when his best productive period has passed.
A savings account, followed by the gradual accumulation of good securities, is an easy matter for the average man if systematically planned—and this will give him a permanent, steady income when he is ready to stop work.

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

The best friends are those who withhold their advice, and their aid, until they are asked, and then help all they can.

No matter how close to us he may be, and how well meaning, our friend becomes obnoxious to us when he volunteers to solve our problems; and this is particularly true in matters pertaining to love.

Alonso Capper had what were to him the best of intentions when he arranged a theater party company, of Elaine Alloway, with himself as her escort, and Lilah Phareley and Michael. He announced the party to Michael as they were lunching together downtown.

"Called up Lilah this morning and made a date for Tuesday evening," he remarked casually.

Michael looked up with a grin, supposing this was more of Lonnie's foolery. "You didn't get my permission."

"Oh, you're coming along! It's going to be a theater party—Shaw's 'Arms and the Man' is being played by the Guild company; it's a bang-up comedy, you know. Be good for you romantic souls—romance is found only on the stage, you know."

"Who's going to be in the party?" He was totally unprepared for what was coming.

"Oh, just four of us, You and Lilah, and Elaine and me."

Michael colored. "I'm afraid I can't go to the theater Tuesday evening—I forgot—I—"

Lonnie smiled—sardonically and shook his head. "No, you haven't got anything else to do Tuesday evening?"

No More Shiny Noses

A new French process powder that is not affected by perspiration—will not let an ugly shine come through; stays on until you take it off; fine and pure; makes the pores invisible; looks like beautiful natural skin; gives a soft velvety complexion. Get this new wonderful beauty powder called Mello-glo.

Hutchinson and Gibney

Michael, his anger rising, threw down his napkin in disgust. "What in the hell do you want to get them together for?"

The other man was unperturbed. "Keep your shirt on, old thing. He was silent for a moment as he gazed intently into Michael's eyes. Then he went on, his voice more sympathetic: "Mike, I just want to help you straighten out this heart tangle you have gotten yourself into."

Michael tugged out his cigarette case and nervously began to smoke. "I don't see how in the devil you expect that sort of an arrangement to help. Well, I'm not going."

Lonnie shrugged. "All right, Lilah is my guest, and I'll get a substitute for you. I don't think she'll mind." He shrugged as if the matter was settled.

Michael's eyes flamed. What did he mean? Was this an insinuation? He smiled mirthlessly.

"I know you're just trying to help, but I wish you wouldn't." He smoked on in silence. When he had dashed out the last embers against the ash-tray, he spoke again: "The fact is—I'm not in doubt any more. New interest lighted in Lonnie's gaze. 'I'm going to marry Lilah. I'm sure of myself. I was an ass to say I wasn't. I love her more than anything in the world.'"

For a moment their eyes looked into each other's souls; but only Lonnie was able to read what he saw there. His gaze shifted thoughtfully, then returned. "I'm glad, Mike."

They left their table a few minutes later.

"There is no reason for calling off the party, now that I've made the arrangements and got the tickets," Lonnie said.

Michael halted. "But you don't understand—"

He paused. Lonnie was right. If he knew his heart there was no reason for him to be afraid. He believed that he knew his heart. "All right, I'll go. I've been wanting to see 'Arms and the Man' ever since I read it. Shaw is a comical cuss, isn't he?"

"World's greatest comedian," Lonnie responded.

Each's mind was upon the same thing as they walked away after parting, and that thing was not Shaw. (To be continued.)

HEAVY FROST CAUSES DESTRUCTION

MOTORIST KILLED AND FOUR INJURED SUNDAY

DAYTON COLORED MAN VICTIM WHEN AUTO SKIDS; TWO ARE HELD

Another May Die—Six Arrested at Same Time With Liquor

One man was killed and another is believed fatally hurt at McClellan Hospital here as the result of an automobile accident on the Dayton and Xenia pike, just west of the Xenia corporation limits at 3 o'clock Sunday morning when an automobile containing five colored men, all from Dayton, skidded and turned over.

The dead man is Clyde Thornton, 40, of 613 Weller Street, Dayton, unmarried, who was killed instantly when he sustained a broken neck. Rich Curry, 47, of 613 Weller Street, Dayton, is at the hospital suffering from injuries that may prove fatal. The left side of his chest is crushed and one lung punctured.

Erry Hughley, 40, of 114 Garr Street, Dayton, was removed to his home Sunday from the hospital where he was taken after the accident. He is suffering from fractures of the left shoulder and the left hip.

J. W. Davis, 27, of 1868 Lakeview Avenue, Dayton, driver of the auto and Walter Reynolds, 51, of 171 Howe Avenue Dayton, suffering minor cuts and bruises. They are being held at the County Jail following their arrest at the scene of the accident. Authorities say all of the men had been drinking.

The party was driving toward Xenia when the accident happened. Davis said the auto skidded on the wet pike, turned around toward Dayton and then turned over on the tracks of the Dayton and Xenia traction line.

Thornton, Hughley and Curry were pinned underneath the machine until motorists lifted the machine. Sheriff Morris Sharp was called and took Patrolman Charles Simms with him to the scene. The officers rushed the two injured men to the hospital and sent for Johnson and Watkins undertakers.

When they returned to the scene they were joined by Patrolman Fred Jones. As the ambulance was leaving with the body of Thornton the officers stopped another approaching machine and placed under arrest six Dayton white men, confiscating a quart of whiskey they had.

They were also locked up in the County Jail and gave their names as: Jesse Mefford, Verner McReynolds, Lou Henders, William Snyder, J. L. Grishop and Harry Ragsdale. McReynolds was driving the auto, liquor, and has not been fined. Ragsdale, Grishop, Mefford and Henders pleaded guilty to plain drunk and fined $25 and cost each by Judge Wright when arraigned in Probate Court Monday morning. McReynolds and Snyder pleaded guilty to the same charge but have not been fined, arraigned Monday.

CASHIER OF MANILA BANK IS SUICIDE

Manila, May 25—Fred W. Kenny, cashier of the Philippine Trust Company, former captain in the United States army, committed suicide here today, according to police authorities following an alleged plot on the part of bank subordinates to make it appear he was responsible for a $500,000 shortage.

Vice President McFerran, of the bank, declared Kenny was entirely innocent of any connection with the shortage, which according to McFerran was caused by a plot between a Filipino clearing house clerk and a petty government official.

NO CHANGE IN DEBT COLLECTING POLICY

Washington, May 25—Only as a last resort and when it appears certain that funding of the foreign debts owed the United States cannot be accomplished otherwise, will the Coolidge administration make any radical change in the present debt collecting policy, it was declared officially today.

This attitude upon the part of the president and members of the cabinet was made known to set at rest reports both in this country and abroad that the government was preparing to back down in its demand for the payment of the seven billion dollars now outstanding under the terms of the existing foreign debt act.

Lost Millions

The three children of Mrs. Guinevere Gould and the late George J. Gould, Jr., George S., ten; Jane S., nine, and Guinevere, three, were eliminated from any share in the $32,000,000 Gould estate by a ruling of Referee James A. Gorman in New York, who, as an outcome of the lengthy litigation over the great trust fund, held that George Gould's second marriage did not come within the terms of the trust.

ARREST MAN WANTED FOR SLAYING OF TWO WOMEN AT COTTAGE

Accused Man Protests He Is Innocent But Submits Quietly To Arrest

Newburyport, Mass., May 25—Harry A. Kirby, accused of slaying Miss Aida Hayward, shooting her aunt, Mrs. Emma A. Towns and setting the Hayward cottage at Winthrop, Maine, afire, was arrested today in a north end lodging house.

Admitting his identity, but protesting innocence of the crimes, charged against him, Kirby was taken to Newburyport police headquarters. While Kirby was being quietly led from the lodging house here by police officers a bloodhound was penetrating the woods near Boydoinham, Maine, and a detail of Massachusetts state constabulary was combing the woods at Wilmington.

"I am innocent," declared Kirby, according to the Newbury police. "I found the body of Miss Hayward and I took it to the cottage where it was found and put it between the mattresses."

"I did this to protect somebody else; I'm going to make a full statement later. I wanted to protect somebody but I won't tell who that person is yet."

Kirby came to Newburyport on Saturday afternoon from Augusta and registered at the lodging house of Frank Pond.

Pond recognized photographs of Kirby in the newspapers and called police.

Kirby lay in bed when police entered his room with drawn revolvers. He did not try to escape.

GRAND JURY ASKED TO INDICT SCOPES

Dayton, Tenn., May 25—The Rhea County courthouse today became the center of interest in Dayton as a special session of the grand jury got under way for the single purpose of returning an indictment against John T. Scopes, young high school teacher, for teaching evolutionary theories to his pupils in violation of the mandate of the state legislature. It was the first formal step in the great legal battle that is scheduled to take place in Tennessee to test the constitutionality of laws designed to restrict education.

STRIKE TROUBLE BREAKS OUT ANEW

Moundsville, W. Va., May 25—Mine strike trouble broke out anew here early today, with the bombing of two houses of miners at Glendale, a small mining town, just outside this city. Five arrests followed.

The first bomb wrecked the porch of the house occupied by Harry Smigal. While residents were investigating this blast, another occurred at the house of John Poluski, nearby. None was injured, but the lives of the father and seven children at the Smigal residence and those of five persons asleep in the Poluski house were endangered.

Anxiety Increases As No Word Comes From Flyers

Oslo, Norway, May 25.—The almost 300,000 people of this capital today were in a state of tense excitement in absence of news of the Amundsen-Ellsworth North Pole fliers, six in number.

Newspaper offices were besieged by anxious crowds and the newspapers put on extra workers to keep open the telegraph, telephone and other means of communication for the receipt and distribution of news.

The steamer Hobby was reported to have returned from an outlook trip along the northern coast lines of Spitzbergen. It was said to have found no trace of the fliers.

Weather experts still insist that although there has been bad weather in the vicinity of Spitzbergen, the Polar weather is good.

Many laymen here are of the opinion that Amundsen may have encountered a storm and descended to avoid it.

Great interest is being displayed here on reports from the United States that the American government may send airplanes to search for the Amundsen-Ellsworth party. It is the general belief in Oslo that Amundsen has reached the pole and descended and is awaiting better weather conditions before returning. It also is believed possible that he may have landed north of Spitzbergen and he has not been able to establish communication with the ships Hobby and Farm.

London, May 25.—The steamship Hobby has returned to Wellman bay, without word of Captain Amundsen's party, according to news agency dispatches. No word had been received from Amundsen at Spitzbergen at 2 p. m. today.

Copenhagen, May 25.—An admittedly unconfirmed report that the Amundsen-Ellsworth North Pole fliers reached Spitzbergen yesterday was circulated here today but was discredited.

PROMISE ACTION IN BLUE LAW ARGUMENT TUESDAY IS REPORT

Attorney Says Move May Be Expected—Sunday Passes Quietly

Predicted action by Attorney F. W. Johnson on behalf of certain unknown clients to force "blue law" observance in Xenia, was not taken Monday but may definitely be expected Tuesday, it was announced.

Attorney Johnson and his clients have outlined two definite plans of procedure that are expected to bring results in the "blue law" demand, but the attorney refused to divulge them Monday, although he admitted they would probably be put into practice Tuesday, saying a conference would first be held with his clients.

Fearful of the consequences of keeping their stores open for business Sunday, a number of Xenia business houses, heretofore, open on Sunday, remained closed. However, cigar stores, restaurants, oil companies and other places conducted business as usual.

Many interested citizens have formed the opinion that action by Attorney Johnson early this week would take the form of affidavits against those business houses remaining open for business Sunday contrary to the provisions of the obsolete state statute governing "Sabbath desecration."

It was the consensus of opinion that information would be gathered Sunday and affidavits filed Monday, with the intention of forcing Prosecutor J. C. Marshall to go to the extreme in his law enforcement campaign and prosecute the issue.

Clients of Attorney Johnson are now, however, harboring another plan which it is believed would obtain the same results. This plan will be announced Tuesday by Attorney Johnson he declared.

GERMANY WILLING TO SIGN TREATY

Geneva, May 25—Germany is willing to sign an international treaty binding all nations to abandon or outlaw all forms of chemical warfare, her delegates to the Geneva conference announced today.

The German announcement came in connection with a move by American delegates to prohibit the exportation of poisonous weapons of warfare. A resolution to this effect was presented to the conference by Representative Theodore Burton and the German delegates promptly supported it.

NINETEEN WILL BE ARRAIGNED IN CASE

Moundsville, W. Va., May 25—In court today will be arraigned nineteen men and one woman for participation in strike riots of April 19, at Glendale, one of the many disturbances that has marked the progress of the coal strike in northern West Virginia.

After the arraignment of the indicted, who are out under $1,000 bond, it will be determined whether or not they will be tried collectively or individually.

The riot at Glendale grew out of an attack upon the home of Robert Crowe, colored, during which Jack Samochiew, Glendale miner, was shot and who is still living in the hospital with a bullet in his brain.

Athens, May 25—Suits for more than $20,000 in money have been instituted by creditors of the Varsity Inn, "hanging out place" for Ohio University students. The inn, located at a corner of the university campus, is known to thousands of students, past and present. It has been an eating and dancing resort for the college folk.

MOTHER OF XENIAN KILLED WHEN AUTO SKIDS ON WET ROAD

Howard Swisher Escapes Unhurt In Accident In Kentucky Saturday

Mrs. Laura Swisher, 52, of Richmond, Ind., mother of Howard R. Swisher, Xenia, who is manager and bookkeeper of the Davis Oil Company, was instantly killed when the machine in which she and her son were riding, skidded, ran off the wet road and overturned at Kelat, a little town near Somerset, Ky., according to word received here.

Howard Swisher, driver of the machine, escaped uninjured.

Mr. Swisher left Xenia Friday night for Richmond, Ind., with the intention of taking his mother to Somerset, Ky., to return Mrs. Swisher's daughter, Miss Verna, teacher in the Somerset High School, to Richmond at the close of the school term. The accident occurred on the way to Somerset. They had left Richmond for Somerset early Saturday morning.

The machine skidded on the slippery road, left the road and capsized when the brakes refused to work.

The body was taken to Cynthiana, Ky., to await removal to Richmond.

Mrs. Swisher is survived by her husband, Martin, of Richmond, who has been assistant fire chief of the city for a number of years; two sons, Howard Swisher, Xenia, and a son employed in Chicago and one daughter, Verna.

Mrs. Swisher had been a resident of Richmond for a great number of years and was prominent in club work and social circles.

MAY WINTER RESULTS IN DAMAGE ALL OVER COUNTRY IS REPORT

Greene County Suffers From Heavy Freeze—Small Stuff Hurt

Chicago, May 25.—Virtually complete annihilation of the early tomato and bean crops and great damage to corn in the sections where the low temperatures struck over the week end was forecast today, following a survey by agriculture agencies here.

Chicago, May 25.—The "May winter" which swirled out of the northwest late Saturday and kept temperatures near the freezing point over the week-end, still held in Chicago and the Midwest in its grip today. The low point of the present frigidities was 37 degrees reached at 9:30 a.m. yesterday and the high was 44 degrees, registered at seven last night.

In the interim, a miniature blizzard swept over the city. One death from the cold was reported. The victim was Hugh McKillop, 15. The day before there had been five deaths from heat prostrations in this district as thermometers climbed to 94, making it the hottest May 22 of record.

SNOW FALLS

Glens Falls, N. Y., May 25.—All records for late snowstorms in this section of the state were broken this morning when an inch of snow fell over Lake George, Warrensburg and other villages north of here.

Because of the high wind, which accompanied the drop in temperature, there was no frost, the weather bureau reported, and for this reason damage to growing crops, it was predicted, will not run as high as had been anticipated.

The forecast today gave promise of "slowly rising temperatures" to nearly normal for the season but warned that no real warm weather was in sight.

The heaviest frost on the latest date remembered Sunday night threatened to spell destruction of garden crops, fruits, corn and early field crops in Greene County.

The extent of the frost damage is subject to conjecture by local growers who differ as to the result of the freeze. According to the Engle Floral Company, the frost has been the heaviest and latest in a number of years, the thermometer standing at twenty-six and one half degrees above zero, at 3:30 o'clock, Monday morning. They declare this is the coldest for the time of the year since 1923, when on May 8 and 9, the thermometer showed twenty-six degrees above, following a frost.

E. J. Lampert of the Engle Floral Company, said the ground was frozen Monday morning and ice covered the green house. Potatoes and grapes are black at the Engle Company and all the tender produce is destroyed, he said, including tomatoes, beans and potatoes.

Potatoes have been the hardest hit, according to Ford S. Prince, county agricultural agent, who talked with several farmers Monday morning about the freeze. Some damage was noticed on the corn, he said, but the full extent of the frost could not be estimated until sun came out warm later in the day and the plants thawed out. The fruit situation will not be known for a few days, he said.

C. K. Wolf, Beaver Creek Township, some time ago, predicted the frost Sunday. Farmers over the county agreed that it was the heaviest for the time of year in a long time.

Stryker and Pagett fruit growers, Stone Road, were more optimistic about the extent of the damage. Much of the smaller produce grown at the Stryker and Pagett farm was under cover and no fear was felt about the larger fruit on the farm. Most of the fear was held for the grapes, raspberries, blackberries and other smaller fruit but confidence was expressed by Stryker and Pagett that the apples, pears, peaches and cherries were not damaged.

A frost that was as serious in consequence fell last year about May 22. It is said, but the fruit or other crops were only slightly damaged.

Potatoes are practically destroyed over the entire county and district, according to George Lampert of the Lampert Floral Company. The same is true of grapes although some of these may be saved.

Tomato plants were ruined, according to Mr. Lampert, but new plants can be set out again. All beans and other tender vegetables out in the open were destroyed by the frost, he said. According to Mr. Lampert, the latest average freeze is May 15, and this frost was the latest in a number of years, to do so much damage, to his knowledge. Mr. Lampert's thermometer had the temperature of about three below freezing at 3:30 o'clock.

COMMITTEE RETURNS TWO REPORTS URGING ACTION BE DROPPED

Second Controversy To Come To Head Next Thursday

Columbus, May 25.—By an overwhelming vote, the Presbyterian General Assembly, in session here today, adopted the report of the committee on bills and overtures recommending that no action be taken relative to the request of the First Presbyterian Church New York City for approval of its action in the Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick case.

Only a few scattering "noes" were heard when the vote was taken.

The action of the assembly in this matter is the first big victory scored by the "harmony" factions.

Two reports on the case are to be presented by the committee but which would be supported by a majority was not clear as the commissioners gathered for resumption of their sessions. One of the reports will recommend that the assembly drop the case on the ground that the matter is now a closed incident with the resignation of Dr. Fosdick. The other will make the same recommendation but will leave the way open for debate in the assembly after presentation of the report, by a discussion of the case.

The latter report was first signed by a majority of the commissioners but several have since withdrawn their names and signed the first report, and it is faced Tuesday morning today would bear the signature of a majority of the committee.

The battle on the floor of the assembly is expected to be staged on a ruling to be made by Dr. Charles R. Erdman, moderator, of Princeton, N. J., blocking discussion of the reports on the ground that such discussion would tend to prejudice the similar but more generalized case comprising the complaints against the New York presbytery relative to licensing of ministers now being debated by the judicial commission.

It was expected a majority of the assembly would support Dr. Erdman's ruling, as the trend of sentiment appears to be toward a harmonizing of the warring factions.

The second big hurdle before the "peace" leaders of the general assembly must be faced Tuesday afternoon when the judicial commission is scheduled to report its decision on the complaints against the New York Presbytery relative to licensing of ministers, who, it is alleged, have refused to affirm faith in the virgin birth and other basic tenets of the church.

"Harmony" leaders are planning to force adoption by the assembly of a resolution calling for an investigation of the whole case, if there are indications, when the report is presented, that the radical elements, both modernist and fundamentalist, show signs of desiring to debate the whole issue on the floor of the assembly.

These leaders said today that if the assembly should determine to thresh the case out on the floor adjournment of the sessions would be likely to be deferred for at least two weeks.

Columbus, Ohio, May 25.—More than one thousand delegates to the annual General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church were called upon today by Dr. William Chalmers Covert of Philadelphia to a lunch crusade to perpetuate the Christian home in America. Dr. Covert is general secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education and submitted a report of the work of this body to the general convention.

Dr. Covert called attention to the struggle of the Christian home with the disintegrating influences at work today and said he believed the time was ripe for a movement in which pastors, educators and parents joined for the preservation of the unity of home life.

"Society, as it exists in the world, now rests on the foundation of the social unit we call the home," Dr. Covert said. "If the home dissolves under the stress of modern life the maintenance of organized spiritual life will be next to impossible."

The report of Dr. Covert called attention to the fact that the Presbyterian Church at large is facing a deficit of spiritual leaders and that this deficit is far more difficult to meet than a financial shortage. Presbyterian pastors are dying more rapidly than others are being ordained. Out of every twenty-seven which the church ordains, the report pointed out, ten come from other denominations. There are only half as many candidates for the ministry today, in proportion to the church membership, as there were in training for the pulpit thirty years ago, the report said.

MAY PARTY AND MITE BOX MEETING ENJOYED

The Home Guards and Mothers' Jewels of Trinity M. E. Church enjoyed the May party and mite box-opening meeting, Saturday afternoon. The social rooms of the church were made festive with a May pole with its delicately colored streamers, the throne for the May Queen and a huge May basket.

The children gave a short program of recitations and songs and at the close took part in a mite box procession, when they deposited in the May basket, their mite boxes, containing their offering toward the work of the children's department of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, which is to raise $20,000 to help build a dormitory at Farmington, N. Mexico, provide $3,000 for lunches for the children in the mission kindergartens and also help support orphanages.

While the contents of the mite boxes were being counted, Mrs. George Street told the children several missionary stories. Marjorie Haines and Donna Devoe were crowned May Queens, as their mite boxes both contained more than ten dollars each, most of which they had earned.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mrs. Roy Hay, Mrs. Ovid Lowe, Mrs. Ernest Beatty, Mrs. Clarence Stevenson, Mrs. J. J. Stout and Mrs. Lee Bickett. One hundred children and adults enjoyed the afternoon.

PLEADS FOR CHURCH UNITY IN ADDRESS TO XENIA AUDIENCE

God's work is accomplished through the personality of the individual and everyone should take his personality and possibilities as a responsibility and God-given provision was the theme of the inspiring address of Dr. John C. Acheson, president of Macallister College, St. Paul, Minn., former Xenian, at the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday morning.

Dr. Acheson's topic was "Uplifting of Humanity Through Personal Service," and in a rich, mellow voice and with a commanding personality which lent strength to his statements, he brought out many educational points. He declared that the pages of history are illumined with the names of men and women who have lifted their fellow-beings to higher levels, from sin, suffering and hopelessness to happiness and the realization of their best interests.

He took his text from Isaiah and brought down the imagery of that day to the present. He strongly urged church unity and the brotherhood of man, world-wide.

Dr. Acheson was a member of a commission of five Americans sent to Europe, during the World War to examine conditions there. The commission visited every battlefield and no phase of the war life was neglected in its search. Many of his points and illustrations were drawn from his experiences.

The meeting was called following the receipt of a notification Monday by officials of this district from the state Tax Commission that an appraisal of all property in the different counties, for the purpose of ascertaining its true money value for taxation, must be made in 1925, under the provisions of the McDonald bill, enacted by the last General Assembly, and which will become effective July 16.

The case was previously assigned for trial in Common Pleas Court May 27, and was the third suit brought for $25,000 damages growing out of the fatal shooting of Dorsey Nickell and the wounding of Volney Nickell and Elmer Middleton on the Wilmington Pike by a sheriff's posse headed by Funderburgh in September 1922.

The court ruled in the Dorsey Nickell damage award that Funderburgh must also pay the doctor bills and for treatment at Espy Hospital. The Middleton case was settled out of court, while a jury awarded Mrs. Nickell $2,500 damages in her second suit.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

That person only is wise who fortifies the body against cold by naturally warming the blood. By exercise, sharp walking, deep and nasal breathing out of doors, and proper food "put your overcoat into your blood", and thus you will be able to resist disease, as well as enjoy health.

A serious cause of disease is the breathing of impure air. Neglect to supply the proper quantity of oxygen in the cause of many very serious ailments. It produces disease frequently in the first instance and is the cause of its continuance in others. Early in the history of the Physical Culture Magazine we called attention to the value of outdoor treatment for consumption. We emphasized the importance of this method of treatment, and the result of our efforts and those of others is seen in the marvelous change that has come about everywhere in the treatment of this complaint.

Consumptives and all kinds of invalids are now being made to sleep out of doors, even in winter, with the most beneficial effects.

The need for a proper supply of oxygen cannot be too strongly emphasized. It is necessary to ward off disease. It is still more necessary to cure disease. It is therefore the duty of every one to cultivate the fresh air habit until the average person may regard you as a fresh air crank. Fresh air cranks are a great source of annoyance to those who insist on closed windows. Yet it is well to secure fresh air at all reasonable hazards in the way of annoying or offending others. Health is a matter of primary importance and in no way is health more surely gained and retained than by continuous breathing of pure, sun-laden, vivifying, moving, fresh, outdoor air, and in no way more quickly lost than by breathing shut in, poison-laden, dead, fetid, heavy, indoor air.

We believe that a note of warning should be sounded to the effect that excess is a great cause of disease. With prosperity come all sorts of evil influences. By far the worst of these may be termed our excesses. The science of life, to the average individual, is a closed book. He knows little, cares less, of himself and of the science of his natural requirements.

GRAND JURY ASKED TO INDICT SEVEN

The Grand Jury is composed of eight men and seven women as follows: Earl Rakestraw, J. M. Carper, W. O. Custer, Harvey Collins, Raymond Hopping, Perry Sackett, Carrie Schmidt, Florence Coates, Ella Fogg, Millie Johnson, Ruth Clemmer, Mamie Mathews, Emma Tonkinson, Burt Wei and Benjamin Zellars.

PEOPLE WHO TAMPER WITH FAITH FLAYED IN SERMON SUNDAY

The ruin and sin that is going on in the world today is caused by people tampering with faith in the Christian religion, declared the Rev. Steward P. McLennan, Hollywood, Calif., former Xenian, in an address at the First Reformed Church, Sunday morning.

His subject was "The First Thing in the World," which he said was faith. He gave many beautiful illustrations to bring out his theme and his subject was well handled. The Rev. Mr. McLennan is a strict fundamentalist and has no sympathy whatever with the modernists in the church today.

He told of the building of the handsome church, of which he is pastor, in Hollywood, at a cost of half a million dollars. He is aided in carrying on the work in the movie city by six assistants and they cooperate along the various lines of the social religious and industrial life of the city.

The Rev. Mr. McLennan graduated from the Xenia Theological Seminary when it was located in Xenia.

H. E. RICE BACK FROM FLEET MANEUVERS

Harry E. Rice, Xenia newspaperman who has been with the United States fleet at the Hawaiian Islands, for the past two months, arrived home Sunday evening. Mr. Rice had intended remaining with the fleet until the completion of the maneuvers at Honolulu and then go to Australia but learned recently that the fleet would be held at Honolulu until July 1, and then sail for Australia. Rather than wait that long he sailed on "Los Angeles" for California and returned directly to Xenia from Los Angeles.

Mr. Rice was the only newspaperman from Ohio who was included in the large writing staff, and other guests with the fleet. He left Xenia, April 4, for San Francisco and following the entertainment for the fleet there spent fourteen days on the sea enroute to Honolulu. The time spent at the Hawaiian city was a constant round of feasting, according to Mr. Rice. The guests and naval officers were entertained from early morning until midnight by Hawaiian dignitaries and other honorables.

AN EMPTY CROWN

GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS, uncle of the late Czar, has broken his long silence with the announcement that he is willing to lead a movement to drive the Soviets from Russia. Time was when Nicholas was by all means the most powerful of the Romanoffs with the exception of the Czar himself. While in command of the Russian armies Nicholas did well—that is as well as could be expected of a commander whose troops were badly trained and poorly equipped.

The pro German intrigues at Petrograd are supposed to have unhorsed him. What the truth of that matter is we shall probably never know but reports have always been to the effect that the German Czarina and the notorious monk Rasputin were responsible for his downfall. Shortly after Nicholas gave up the command came the avalanche. Since that time he has been living quietly in Italy and France.

What the effect of his announcement will be can only be a matter of conjecture at this time. We fear it will be nil—unless it is used by the Bolsheviks as an excuse for further outrages against people now living in Russia who may be accused of furthering the plans of the Romanoffs. We suspect that Nicholas, now an old man, is as much actuated by a desire to block the ambitions of Grand Duke Cyril to take his place at the head of the Romanoff family, as by any hope of giving battle to the soviets.

Cyril has proclaimed himself the rightful successor to the Czar but with the exception of his wife we can remember none who agrees with him. He is hopelessly unpopular with the remnants of the old regime.

HOW LEADERS ARE MADE

HAIL to the Prune! Ten years ago prunes were a nickel a dish and considered good enough for the poor man. Now the prune is registered at the Ritz and an order of them denotes wealth on the part of the patron.

Nearly 400,000,000 pounds of dried fruits, valued at over $30,000,000, were exported from the United States last year, or more than double the quantity exported in 1923. Prunes made up 55 per cent of the shipments, and raisins 23 per cent. The prune has come into its own at home and abroad.

Our biggest prune purchaser is Germany, and the American prune may have something to do with the disposition of the Germans to forget the war and get down to business. Next to Germany, England is our best customer for dried fruits, her purchases in 1924 being four times those of the pre-war period and double those of 1923. Canada also ranks high as a purchaser. But the policy of imperial tariff preferences which is being put into operation by the British Empire will probably be felt ere the year passes.

There is now awaiting the ratification by Canada of a trade agreement with Australia which will give the latter a free Canadian market for dried fruits, while the general Canadian duty thereon is to be advanced from two-thirds of a cent to three cents a pound. Australian dried fruits are also to have a free market in Great Britain, while American fruits will pay protective rates. But the prune will continue to strut its stuff, for Australia confines its interest to raisins and currants.

And how is it that the prune has come to the front? How was it that the orange became such a popular fruit? How was it that raisins became famous for their "iron"? How is it that people have come to "eat more peanuts"? Through advertising. Through an educational campaign of national magnitude. Through the same methods which are followed out by every successful producer or retail merchant.

THE OLD CLOTHES CRY

I met him in his garden where he toiled with hoe and spade, I stopped to view his roses and the pansy bed he'd made, And I noticed he was wearing evening dress and fancy shoes—Which is not the sort of raiment busy gardeners ought to use. "Why the soup and fish?" I asked him, and I laughed to hear him say: "That wife of mine has given all my other clothes away."

"Listen, neighbor, listen to my little tale of woe. The wife and I were married nearly twenty years ago, I've told her time and time again to leave my clothes alone. But I have never had a pair of pants to call my own."

I've set aside old suits, old shoes, for gardening in the spring. But when I've gone to get them out she hadn't left a thing.

"I've hoarded suits for fishing trips and hunting trips to be, Now there's an army wearing clothes that once belonged to me!"

I've said: "When gardening time returns, these duds I'll want to wear."

But when I've gone to get them out I couldn't find them there. That wife of mine will never let a garment rest a day.

I think she has a mania for giving duds away.

"So that is why you see me here in evening clothes today. And why my patent leather shoes are thick with mud and clay; I'm teaching her a lesson, though these duds will be a mess I'm gardening in the only other suit which I possess. I'm trying to convince her, though I doubt if that can be. That charity begins at home, and ought to start with me."

Cuban Beef Roll: Buy one pound of hamburger steak. Mix with it one cup of bread crumbs, three peeled, minced onions, one green sweet pepper which is minced (with seeds removed) one teaspoon of salt, and one beaten egg. Form this mixture into a long roll on a greased baking pan, lay six strips of uncooked bacon over it, and slip into a moderate oven (covered) to bake for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot with tomato catsup.

Ham Dabs: Grind broiled, or baked, ham in your food chopper, then add to one cupful of it one cup of bread crumbs, one tablespoon of melted butter, a dash of black pepper, and three-fourths of a cup of sweet milk. Mix well, then form into small mounds on a greased pan. Take a small, clean china cup and make a little depression or "well" in the top of each of these mounds. Slip the pan into a hot oven to bake for about five minutes (or till the mixture is heated through) then half slip it out of the oven, break an egg into the depression on the top of each hot little mound, and push pan back into the oven for a few minutes—till the eggs are "set." Serve at once, lifting the mounds or dabs from the pan by means of a pancake turner.

Cottage Pie: This dish consists of equal parts of left-over cooked potato and left-over cooked meat, seasoned, and mixed well with a little tomato juice or gravy (or simply hot water) added to moisten, then baked till very hot and crusted over in a good oven. In this week's menus I assume you will boil a double quantity of white potatoes on Wednesday evening, for dinner, so as to have enough cooked left-over potato to use with the roast lamb left-overs to make a dish on Thursday night.

Prune Bread: Combine one cup of scalded sweet milk, one-tablespoon shortening, two tablespoons of sugar and a pinch of salt, and let stand till the milk has cooled to the lukewarm stage. Then add one-fourth cup of luke-warm water in which one-half yeast cake has been dissolved. Stir in from three to three and one-half cups of bread flour, then turn out on board. Knead till light (about five minutes) then put the dough in a buttered bowl to rise to twice its bulk. Again turn it out on board, add one cup of soaked but uncooked (stoned) prunes, knead again and shape in two loaves. Place in greased pans, brush with melted butter, let rise till almost double in bulk, and bake 40 minutes in a hot oven.

MISS ROGERS GAINED 15 POUNDS IN 6 WEEKS

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back.

My dear Friends: After my attack of Flu I was thin, rundown and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunk in and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pounds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 204 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollows in cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 Tablets—60 cents at—Sayer and Hemphill, Sohn's Drug Store and live druggists everywhere. If they don't give you wonderful help in 30 days, get your money back—you be the judge. But be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine. Adv.

So perfect was the rendition of each number, that the audience was held spell bound despite the fact that the performers had planned not to respond to encores, due to the length of the program, they were so stormed with applause that they were compelled to. This affair has so eclipsed every thing in the musical lines ever given by local talent that the participants have been besieged with congratulations.

One great fault about this competitive age is that the babies are too much neglected. The babies are not getting an even break.

I like babies. Today on my way to work I passed one just able to strut along. Its little legs knocked at the knees, and its sense of importance—three years importance I would say—dominated the street.

Instinctively, strong men and big wagons look out for the babies.

I wouldn't trust a man or a woman who didn't love babies. Or whose heart did not soften at the sight or the touch of its velvet hand.

"For of such is the Kingdom of Heaven!"

It's babies that keep this world together. They lubricate the very axis of the earth. The love and care of a baby will add ten years to any man's life and take that much away if he doesn't have one with which to play. And I would double this when applied to a woman.

One of the reasons for such great unrest among women is that they have so few babies and so many dogs.

Imagine the blessed prattle of a baby as against the bark of a dog! I love dogs, too. But babies first and foremost always.

My favorite pictures of Presidents Roosevelt and Wilson are those in which they are holding a grandchild baby. They are both greatest there. All rights belong to the babies. God bless them!

GOD HAS PLAN FOR EVERY MAN'S LIFE PASTOR TELLS GRADUATES AT BACCALAUREATE

"God has a plan for every man's life," was the opening sentence of Dr. F. W. Stanton, pastor of the First M. E. Church, at the baccalaureate exercises of the graduating class of Central High School, held at that church Sunday evening.

Dr. Stanton's address, on "The God-planned life," was based upon the text in Heb. 8:5. "See that thou make all things according to the pattern showed to thee in the mount."

Dr. Stanton said in part: "Moses was not to make any alteration in the pattern of the Tabernacle which God gave him in the mount. He was only to build it, and he was the architect. 'Wrecked lives' all about us testify to the fact that men have been tinkering with God's plan for their lives. James Russell Lowell was right when he said, 'No man is born into this world whose work is not born with him.' But a man's work is only a part of the great plan God has for his life."

"God has a purpose in every cloud floating across the summer sky; in every blade of grass on the hill side; in every dew drop wetting the lips of a dying flower. Why should we not believe He has a plan and purpose in every immortal soul? The architect has a plan for his house, the artist an outline for his painting, the ship builder a model for his master ship. Why should not God, who loves us, have a plan for our lives? I once worshipped in a chair factory, where all machines were set by a tinker, and a mistake was made in setting the machine, perfectly good pieces of walnut, oak or cherry, were spoiled, and had to be thrown on the scrap pile. "Man may miss God's plan for his life, and be ruined here, and go to the scrap heap hereafter. However, God has given every man the power to choose and he can choose God's plan, or choose a plan of his own. The former means success, the latter means ruin. The engineer of the great Brooklyn bridge was injured in the beginning of the work. For months he lay in his room, while his wife carried the plans to the workmen. When the work was finished he asked to be carried to the bridge. As he looked it all over and compared it with the blue prints, he exclaimed in an ecstasy of joy, 'It is just like the plan, it is just like the plan.'"

"Where shall we find God's plan for our lives? Like Moses, we shall find it in a mountain. Not Mt. Sinai, or Mt. Seir, or Mt. Carmel, but in Mt. Calvary. Jesus Christ is the magic plan for every man's life, for Paul says, 'We are created in Christ Jesus unto good works.' How shall we find the plan in Christ except as we come to Christ."

"We summon all members of this fine graduating class to this holy mount of privilege, and ask you to take Christ as the perfect pattern for your lives, for time and eternity. The church auditorium and adjoining rooms were crowded for the service. The program opened with the class procession, in caps and gowns, with the organ prelude by Miss Louise Wood, a member of the graduating class. The introduction of caps and gowns to the closing high school exercises, this year, added a solemnity and dignity to the service."

The invocation was pronounced by Dr. V. F. Brown, of Trinity M. E. Church. Music was furnished by the Girls' Glee Club of Central High School. Dr. J. P. Lytle, of the First U. P. Church, read the Scripture Lesson and Dr. C. P. Proudfit, of the Second U. P. Church, led in prayer. John Collins, another member of the class, sang a solo.

Dr. Stanton's address was followed by another number by the glee club, the closing hymn and prayer by Dr. D. A. Sellers of the First Reformed Church.

ZIMMERMAN

The May meeting of the Community Club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Harry Haverstick. Sixteen persons were present. The club voted to purchase shrubbery for the school yard next to the Xenia Pike, which vote was carried into effect a few days later when spruce, and other plants were set out. Mr. Luther Snyder, local florist, generously donated a number of plants and shrubbery.

Four new members, Miss Louise Trehan, Mrs. Lewis Alexander, Mrs. Charles Stewart and Mrs. Homer Kogler, were added to the roll. Refreshments of peaches and ice cream and cake were served. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bailey and Mrs. Emma Engle were recent Sunday guests of Mrs. Bailey's son, Roy Fox, and family, in Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Thornhill entertained their children and grandchildren at dinner. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Dines and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Badders and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burnett, Ernest Thornhill and family, Charles Thornhill and family and Russell Thornhill, all of Dayton.

Program committee, Mrs. Henry Stewart, Mrs. Ralph Moler, Mary Coy, Mrs. Charles Stewart.

A very complete and delightful surprise was tendered Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson Mothers Day, when they returned from church to find all of their eight children and their families gathered at their home in honor of their thirty seventh wedding anniversary. Mr. Johnson's birthday and Mother's Day. Mrs. Johnson was sent a handsome bridge lamp.

Chelsea Stoop, Ed Blake and Mrs. Charlie Stewart have been seriously ill with acute indigestion.

The Faithful Workers Sunday School Class met at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Haverstick Thursday evening. A Bird Guessing Contest was enjoyed. Mrs. I. M. Coy won first prize and Mildred Stewart drew the second prize there being six persons guessing the second highest number. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served. The June meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coy.

The Beaver Creek Tp. Mass Day program was a very enjoyable affair. The Cantata, Mistress Mary's Choice was well rendered. The costumes were pretty and appropriate. The patriotic finale and a blue scene were especially beautiful and inspiring. The teachers of the schools and Mr. W. R. Sayers deserve great credit for their excellent training and efforts.

The orchestra from the grades was also a feature of the program as was also several selections by the High school orchestra.

The highest appreciation is due Mr. Sayers, music director for his untiring efforts with the children. The talk by Mr. Collins and address by Superintendent Zuber were good. Much regret is felt at losing Mr. Collins from the high school faculty and as township superintendent, as he leaves shortly to teach in a College in Egypt.

A. D. Wenrick left Thursday evening for a trip to Colorado and other points in the west.

Floyd Moler and family of Springfield spent Sunday with his grandfather, Cornelius Zimmerman and mother Mrs. Nettie Moler.

MINISTER SEES SINISTER MOVE IN ELECTION OF HINDENBURG IN MEMORIAL ADDRESS

"The Three Hindenburg Lines" was the subject of the address of Dr. Charles P. Proudfit, pastor of the Second U. P. Church, at the memorial services held by Joseph P. Foody Post, American Legion, at the Legion Headquarters, Sunday afternoon.

"I wish to speak today of three Hindenburg lines: the Hindenburg line of yesterday, the Hindenburg line of today and the Hindenburg line of tomorrow," Dr. Proudfit said in opening.

"The Hindenburg line of yesterday is forgotten by multitudes who have no empty chair at their table or no cradle in their family. The last living doughboy of the A. E. F. is home. Lenceny has succeeded asperity. Pulpation has taken the place of supplication."

"It is the popular thing to erase from memory all traces of the Hindenburg line that stretched its dragon form for 250 miles with its crested head resting in Alsace, its claws on Verdun and its tail at Ypres. The new National Museum at Washington will recall these harrowing days to the young generation. But you and I are urged by the pacifist not to visualize this unduly. It is a distinct shock to come face to face with the Hindenburg line of today."

"What relation does President Hindenburg bear to the Field Marshal? Are the aims of the two antithetical? Have we been misinformed when we are told that the World War was merely a product of the War Lords? Is there acceptance of responsibility for Prussianism by 14,600,000 votes out of 29,000,000 voters who registered for this hero? Are we facing a possible Renaissance of Hohenzollernism? These and similar questions come to the lips of the truly patriotic."

place myself frankly among those who have disquieting fears. Memorial days are absolutely essential to keep us from forgetting the horrors of the war-lord policy. Orr, the great cartoonist of the Chicago Tribune, gave us a memorable lesson in his picture 'The Chief Joins His Forces.' President Wilson and the missions of Allies who went west have a perfect right to ask whether the return of the goose step in Germany means the return of goose flesh in France and among the Allies. We may well think in terms of 'The Hindenburg Line to Tomorrow.'

"By this I mean 'the world's greatest menace' whether it is continental or American. If yesterday's supreme menace to civilization was the Hindenburg line, what are the menacing forces which jeopardize our American Commonwealth today? We are not a 'solid Americanism.' The Civil War veteran and the American Legionnaire taught us lessons in preparedness and courage that we dare not forget. America's Hindenburg line may be commercial; it may be racial, it may be moral."

"American's Rum Row must be eradicated from the high seas. Constitutional reverence must be the habit of every patriot. Murder, crime, selfishness, must be unthinkable by religion. 'If Charles Elliot Norton was right when he said, 'I conceive Lincoln's character to be on the whole the great net gain of the war then individual character must be the sublimest deposit from these recurring Memorial Days.'"

An audience that filled the Legion headquarters attended the services. The program opened with the singing of "America" by the audience, accompanied by Miss Helen Hurley. A few remarks on the observance of Memorial Day were made by J. L. Fealy, commander of Foody Post. Miss Leona Keller, accompanied by Mrs. Wilfride Faulkner, sang "Our Own United States," and "I Do Believe."

POPPY SALE HERE IS LESS THAN EXPECTED

Members of Joseph P. Foody Post No. 95, American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary felt disappointed in the results of "Poppy Day" in Xenia, Saturday.

In comparison with other cities near the size of Xenia, the sale here was low, less than 1,000 of the scarlet flowers being sold to Xenians. Bellefontaine, which is near the size of Xenia, sold 4,000 poppies, Legion Auxiliary members say.

Seventeen hundred poppies were made and bought by the local organizations for the sale here and several hundred were left. Members of a high school girl's club canvassed the stores and streets during the day. The proceeds of the sale amount to about $100, which will be used for rehabilitation work among ex-soldiers and for the benefit of veterans' families.

Miss Frances Ambuhl, a teacher at Jackson Center, O., is confined to her home on East Market Street, with an attack of grip.

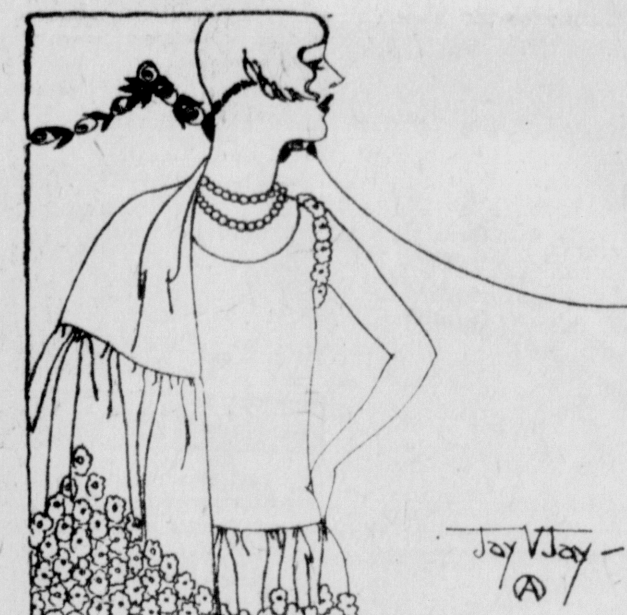

Construction work was begun Monday for a six-room residence by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fletcher at California Street and Cincinnati Avenue.

MODISH MITZI—Polly Put 80 Candles On Her Cake

By JAY V. JAY

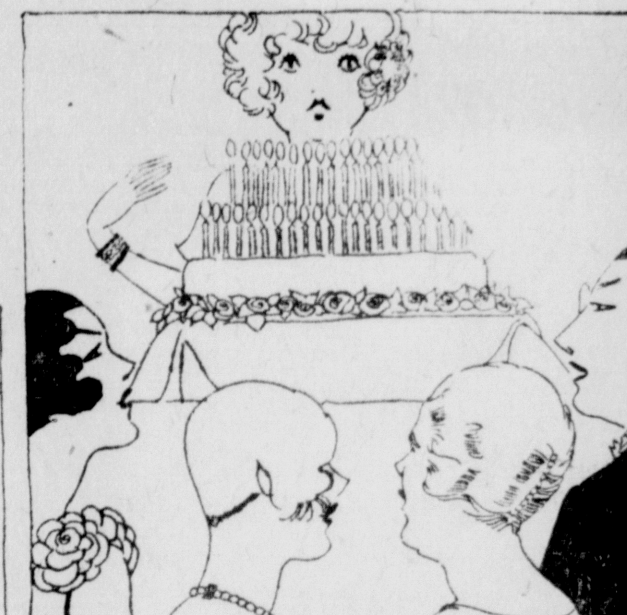

One of the nicest things about a birthday party is the clothes one wears—and also the clothes one's guests wear. Polly admires tremendously Mitzi's sheer silk evening wrap that is half a cape.

Eleanor wears one of the evening ensembles of chiffon—a bouffant dress and cape trimmed with tiny flowers made from ribbon to match. Each flower center is a single colored bead and her necklace is the same shade.

Polly's frocks are always as bouffant as possible and this is an especially becoming one of embroidered taffeta. Adelaide has the newest sort of evening wrap—and a coat of metal cloth lined in chiffon.

And who shall question Polly's discretion? She is less than 20 to the full knowledge of every person present—the fact that she has put 80 candles on her cake can only indicate a canny caution for the future.

DWIGHT WARE WINS SECOND PLACE IN MILE RUN AT MEET

East High School made a fair showing in the B division of the Ohio High School interscholastic track and field meet at the Ohio State University stadium, Columbus, Saturday.

Dwight Ware, star East miler, won the distinction of being known as the second best miler in the B division of Ohio High Schools by taking second place in the mile run.

Ware's time for the distance was 4:37.4, exactly one second behind the winner, who beat the East representative to the wire by scarcely a foot to take first place in the event.

Ware took first place honors in the mile run in the southern division of Ohio high schools track and field meet held at Oxford, O., and is considered one of the best athletes ever turned out at the East Market Street school.

The East relay team, which took first place in the southern division meet, could only place third in its elimination heat Saturday making the distance of one mile in 3:48 which was much slower time than last Saturday's performance.

Bernard Ware, the other East representative at Columbus, failed to qualify in the 220 yard dash event which he won at Oxford last Saturday.

Bell Point, with 29 1-2 points, won the Class B section of the meet and Montpelier was second with 19 1-2 points. Hughes High, of Cincinnati, won the class A division over the favorite, Lakewood, of Cleveland, by piling up 22 1-15 points, Lakewood was second with 21.

Aided by a strong wind, records fell thick and fast before the onslaught of Ohio high schools' star athletes in the annual state championships, and many new marks were made, none of which will be allowed to stand because of the high wind which aided the athletes.

East High School's track team will lose Bernard Ware and Jones from the relay and dash events by graduation this year, but the prospects are that the school will be represented by even a better track team next year.

DAYTON STIVERS TO FORFEIT VICTORIES WHEN RULES BROKEN

School officials have been conducting what is believed to be a needed "spring cleaning" in athletics at Stivers High School of Dayton and it has become known through Athletic Director R. W. Worst and Coach Harry Wilhelm that the Dayton school has been forced to forfeit all victories won in the football campaign.

It is charged that Stivers played through the gridiron program with two members of the team above the age limit of twenty years, in violation of regulations of the state association that all athletes become automatically ineligible after attaining the age of twenty years.

It has long been rumored that certain players on the Dayton school team were ineligible and the matter came to a head several days ago when Ray Otto, Stivers all-around athlete, admitted he was twenty-two years of age last fall when engaging in interscholastic contests.

The startling probe was first brought on when Steele, of Dayton questioned the eligibility of certain Stivers baseball players. Next followed the resignation of Coach Harry Wilhelm and then Otto came clean with an admission of his ineligibility.

It is hard to believe that Otto could have played in violation of the age limit without the knowledge of Stivers school officials.

Other rumors, not verified, point out that Otto's parents wished him to quit school and go to work but that the Stivers faculty manager provided the athlete with clothes in order that he might continue his school work and athletic career.

Nor has Roosevelt High School of Dayton escaped the limelight, and the Steel-Roosevelt baseball game Friday was played under protest when the eligibility of a number of the Teddy Bear players was questioned by a members of the Steele team.

KELLY COMPANY LOSES FIRST LEAGUE TILT WHILE RAILROADERS CUT SLUG TILTON NINE

BY L. J. WONES

The R. A. Kelly baseball team, leaders in the Saturday Afternoon League, were handed their first defeat of the season Saturday at Washington Park by the Hooven and Allison nine by a 5 to 4 score in a fast and interesting game.

Although the Cyphers were beaten they are still at the top of the heap with three won and one lost. The H. and A. and Pennsylvania Railroad are tied for second while Tiltons are in the cellar.

The game was a pitcher's battle between Cyphers and Wells of the H. and A. and Milburn of the Kellys. Cyphers worked four rounds and retired in favor of Wells who worked the last three innings and held the leaders to a lone hit while he fanned five. Both were given good support and only two boots were made behind them.

Milburn lost his first game this season. Prior to this game he had won three straight. The defeat could not be charged to him alone as loose fielding by his mates let the winners score a pair of runs.

Cyphers started for the winners getting a triple with two men on. His sacrifice fly in the seventh scored Cox from third and won the game for the H. and A. nine.

"Grumpy" Milburn did not show any love for his brother Earl, who was pitching for the Kelly bunch, and got a double and single off him and scored two runs.

Early, Ritter and W. Leachey played best for the losers. Ritter was up four times and got two hits off Cyphers while he punched twice against Wells. Early got one blow that scored a run while W. Leachey got a single and triple out of three trips to the pan. He made three nice catches in left field.

The Kellys stepped out and got Milburn an early lead scoring a tally in the first round and again the third and fourth. In their half of the fifth the H. and A. started a rally that netted them a trio of runs that tied the score at three all. Milburn's double, Cyphers' triple, Murrell's single and an error by W. Leachey let them score.

Wells retired the Market Street bunch in order in the sixth while Milburn did likewise with the H. and A. In the seventh W. Leachey led off with a triple to left and scored on an error a few moments later. Milburn and Ritter fanned while Owens went out on a grounder to Cox.

The H. and A. came to bat with a 4 to 3 score against them and after Briggs popped to Early, Milburn singled and went to third on Cox's hit to center and scored on Bennington's wild heave to third. Cyphers flted to Berger in deep right and Cox scored after the catch.

The second game between the Pennsylvania and Tiltons was a slugger match that was won by the former team by a 15 to 13 score.

The winners used three hurlers. Jones working until the sixth and retired with the score tied at eleven all. Fuller went to the rubber and pitched a round and then Bottorff twirled the last inning. Jones pitched nice ball and was given good support but he was very wild, walking seven men and five of these proved costly.

Regan was on the hill for the losers and was given rotten support by his mates. He fanned five and walked four. He was hit rather hard as the railroaders got thirteen safe blows off him. Had he been given better support the score might have been different.

The winners scored in every inning but the second and fifth. Tiltons The schedule will be resumed this week Wednesday and Friday nights because of the Decoration Day game Saturday. The Penns nine will play the H. and A. team Wednesday at 6 p. m. with the Kellys and Tiltons looking up Friday at 6 p. m. at the Washington Park diamond.

West hitless and runless for the first three rounds but rallied in the fourth and got three runs. In the fifth they took advantage of Jones' wildness and coupled with two hits they scored seven runs which tied the score at eleven all. The railroad bunch came right back in the sixth and proceeded to win the game when Murray doubled with two men on the sacks. They scored another pair of tallies in the seventh on two hits and three errors.

EAST HIGH NOTES

A very lovely affair of the past week was the third Annual Passing Party given by the Twentieth Century Club at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Clark. The guests were members of the eighth grade who are to be promoted to high school.

In the welcome address given by the president, Mrs. Carrie Singer a special appeal was made to the pupils to continue their education and make worthy men and women.

The prize for highest scholarship was awarded to Miss Malvena Campbell after which games and refreshments were enjoyed by those present.

The junior-senior banquet was held Friday evening in East High Auditorium. The decorations were beautiful and very elaborate.

Tables for four were used and a for course luncheon was served. With the dim lights of the candles and the dainty frocks of the girls a scene of marked beauty was exhibited to many.

The baccalaureate sermon for the class of '25 proved to be one of the most marked occasions of the Commencement program.

A wonderful sermon was preached by the Rev. T. C. Hammond and music was furnished by his choir.

Wednesday night, the Junior High promotion exercises will be held at the East High auditorium. Literary and musical numbers will be rendered by the class. Prof. Maloney of Wilberforce University will deliver a short talk on promotion.

Thursday evening promptly at 8 o'clock the forty-sixth annual commencement exercises will be held at the Opera House. H. P. Jones, D. B. of Pittsburgh will deliver the commencement address. Ten boys and seven girls will receive diplomas.

Here is Romance! Here is Adventure! Here is Humor! Here is Drama! There is much more to this picture than the name implies. There is much more than the remarkable story of the greatest man America ever produced. There is a wonderful tale so big it will remain immortal. So don't miss it. "Abraham Lincoln!"

BAYLIFFS HALTED BY STORM SUND

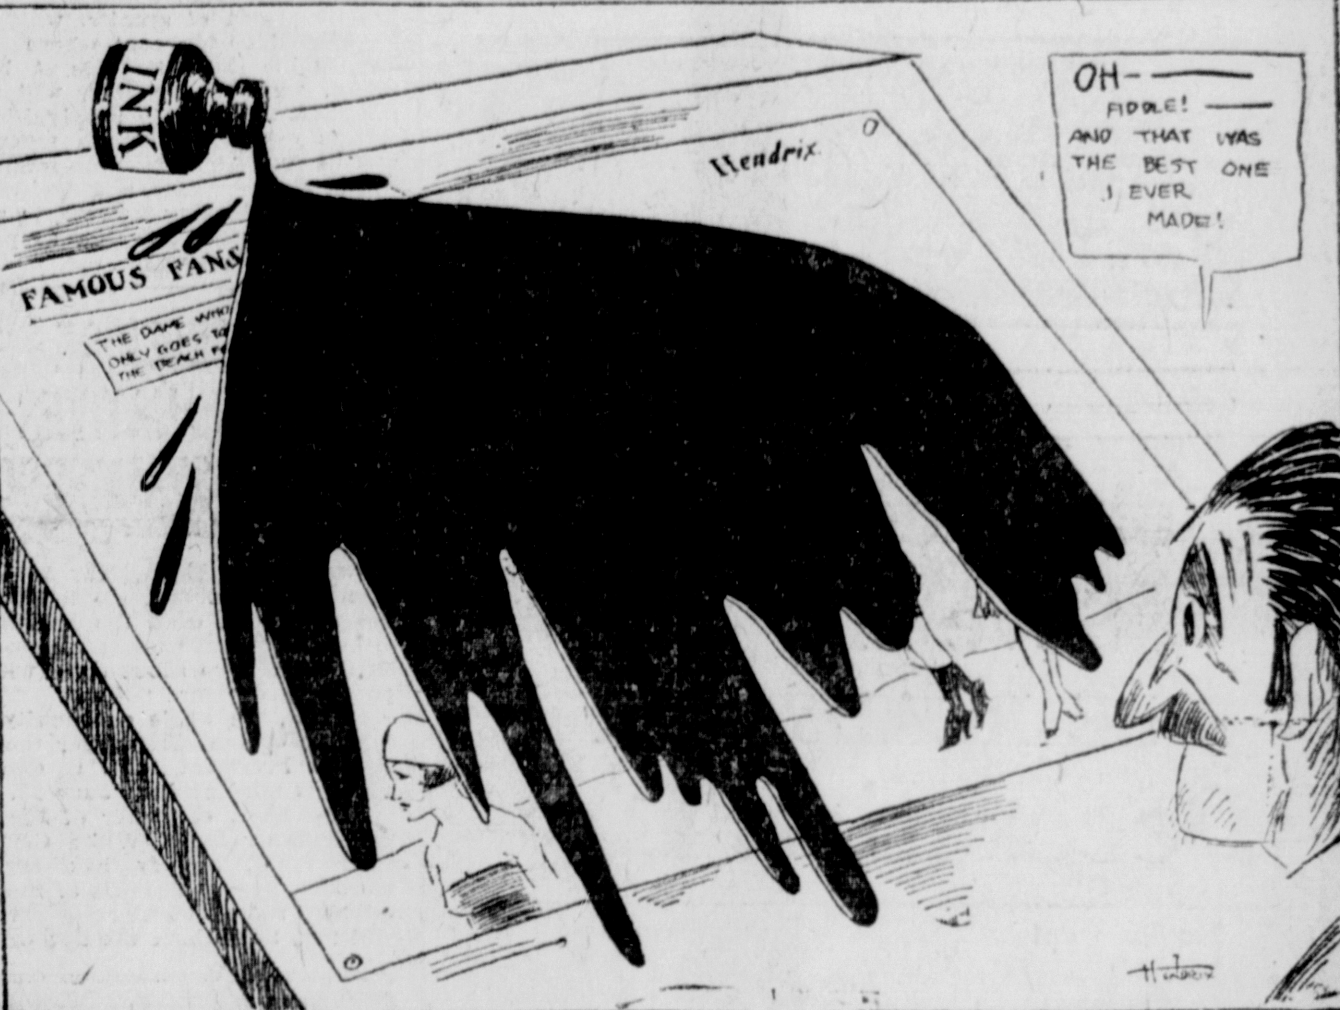

Rain forced the abandonment of scheduled baseball game between Bowersville Bayliffs and the Xenia Nighthawks at Bowersville Sunday afternoon and the Bayliffs were forced to remain idle for the third straight Sunday.

A driving rain carpeted the diamond with water and made the staging of a game an impossibility. Providing the rain hood does not again appear next Sunday, the Bayliffs will play a game with the Trebein baseball team, the management announced Monday. Wells will probably work in the box for the Bayliffs with Murrell receiving.

TUESDAY WILL BE BARGAIN DAY IN XENIA

HISTORIC SPOT IN JAPAN TO BE SITE OF U. S. MONUMENT

Tokyo, May 25.—When Commodore Perry, seeking to open the door which Japan had kept tightly closed against the Western World for centuries, appeared off the Japanese coast in 1854,

El-ichi Shibusawa was a little boy of fourteen. Like all the other little boys of Japan, and the men and women as well, El-ichi was terrified at the sight of those huge "Black Ships" bearing men who, to the Japanese mind, could not be anything else but hostile to the people of the Mikado's domain.

Although terrified, El-ichi Shibusawa was brave. He was ready to die, if need be, to keep the invading white men from despoiling the lands of his Emperor. So he swallowed the lump of fear that rose in his throat, buckled on his sword and swaggered forth, breathing defiance to the strange men from America.

VISIT FRIENDLY
Perry and his men ultimately persuaded the head men of the Japanese nation that their mission was friendly and they meant no harm to the Japanese people. As history records, Perry negotiated the first treaty of trade and commerce between Japan and the United States and laid the foundation of Japanese-American friendship.

Although his childish mind could not then comprehend the significance of all that was transpiring, El-ichi Shibusawa soon saw that the Americans were not the enemies of his country that he had at first supposed them to be, and his mistrust and resentment against them soon died away.

Today this lad of fourteen, who took up arms in childish wrath when the Americans appeared, is Viscount Shibusawa, eighty-five years old, the Nestor of Japanese banking and one of the most influential financiers in the country. He is now regarded as one of the staunchest friends of America in the Sunrise Kingdom.

HONOR AMERICANS
An evidence of how greatly Shibusawa's attitude toward Americans has changed since that faraway day when he wanted to fight the men from Perry's ships is afforded by the announcement just made that the aged nobleman is to erect, at his own expense, a monument on the spot where the first American flag was raised on Japanese soil.

The offer to erect the monument was made by Viscount Shibusawa to Edgar A. Bancroft, the American ambassador, a few weeks ago. It was one of the factors that inspired the recent trip of Ambassador Bancroft to Shimoda, the little seaport town where Townsend Harris set up the first American consulate in Japan and raised the first American flag to float above the soil of Nippon.

During his visit to Shimoda Ambassador Bancroft took pains to locate the exact spot where Harris planted his flagpole. He discussed the project with the head men of the village and found the people of Shimoda decidedly favorable.

Accordingly, plans are now going forward for the procuring of an impressive shaft of granite, which will be erected on the spot where Harris erected his crude flagpole. A bronze tablet, suitably engraved, will adorn the shaft and explain its significance.

It is expected that the monument will be ready for unveiling some time within the next year, and Ambassador Bancroft is looking forward to another pilgrimage to Shimoda to participate in the ceremonies.

The floors are being refurnished, the furniture polished and everything put in top-notch shape for the Presidential approval.

EXCELLENT LOCATION
"I've been here all winter," said Jerry, "and I expect I'll be here all summer. I know the place from top to bottom; know just how much coal it takes to heat it in the winter, and how much ice to order to keep things cool in the summer."

White Court is in an excellent location. The front of the house commands a view over the ocean, and the rear entrance is reached by a driveway. A large veranda encircles three sides of the structure, and a sun porch and breakfast room flank the rear of the mansion.

A large living room, adjoined by a library, and a French drawing-room are on the first floor, and five bedrooms and baths take up most of the space on the third floor.

LUXURIOUSLY FURNISHED
All of the rooms are luxuriously furnished. Bright-colored cretonnes and pastel wall tints give them a refreshing appearance. Most of the furniture is of the light, wicker variety.

The breakfast room is charming, with its rose and cream-colored wicker.

Two swimming pools, cut into the rocks, overlooking the ocean, will afford the Coolidge the choice of ocean bathing or a plunge into the smaller depths of a pool.

White Court is surrounded by other luxurious mansions. Red Gables, the Summer home of Frank W. Stearns, is nearby.

The estates of Charles Beard, Charles E. Brushe, Thomas W. Proctor and others are within short walking distance.

TUESDAY BARGAIN DAY IS PERMANENT BUYING FEATURE

Tuesday will be bargain day in Xenia.

Xenia merchants are co-operating on the plan to make Tuesday a special sale day as a permanent feature of Xenia merchandising.

The first bargain day will be Tuesday, May 26, and each successive Tuesday thereafter will find merchants offering special sales programs on that day. Merchants plan to make their bargains so attractive on Tuesday, that the day will equal Saturday as a shopping day and they hope to popularize the new plan on the first Tuesday.

The bargain day plan was adopted after a conference of merchants in which they adopted this system to shift bargain hunters to the early part of the week. Merchants believe they can prepare each Monday a choice lot of bargains to be offered to the public on the day following and that the Tuesdays of the future will become a buying holiday for Xenia and Greene County people.

Many branches of merchandising are represented in the agreement reached between merchants so that buyers can satisfy all of their wants during the one-day shopping trip. Choice bargains will be offered by the merchants each Monday on this special page in Monday's paper and the business men who are planning the sales program anticipate lively interest from the buying public in the new plan.

Its virtues not only lie in the fact that merchants will vie with each other in offering attractive goods at bargain prices, but that it will enable these buyers to be accommodated weekly and on a day in the week when clerks are prepared to cater to their wants. Thus successive Tuesdays are expected to be similar to one long sale, in which all merchants will combine, systematizing an advantageous arrangement for shoppers.

Buyers should keep the first bargain day in mind for the business men will offer especially attractive prices in their effort to start the new program off right.

TIME MAY DESTROY OTHER RECORDS AS IN CASE OF SCOTT

New York, May 25.—Time being inexorable and age a furtive shadow, speculation has become general as to which of the modern record makers will be the next to turn up his involuntary toes, after the manner of Everett Scott of the New York Yankees. Scott was dropped from the line-up on May 6 after appearing in 1,207 consecutive ball games, a non-stop record that probably will live always.

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER LI.

The best friends are those who withhold their advice, and their aid, until they are asked, and then help all they can.

No matter how close to us he may be, and how well meaning, our friend becomes obnoxious to us when he volunteers to solve our problems; and this is particularly true in matters pertaining to love.

Alonzo Capper had what were to him the best of intentions, when he arranged a theater party composed of Elaine Alloway, with himself as her escort, and Lilah Pharely and Michael. He announced the party to Michael as they were lunching together downtown.

"Called up Lilah this morning and made a date for Tuesday evening," he remarked casually.

Michael looked up with a grin, supposing this was more of Lonnie's foolery. "You didn't get my permission."

"Oh, you're coming along! It's going to be a theater party—Shaw's 'Arms and the Man' is being played by the Guild company; it's a bang-up comedy, you know. It's a bang-up romantic souls—romance is found only on the stage, you know."

"Who's going to be in the party?" He was totally unprepared for what was coming.

"Oh, just four of us, You and Lilah, and Elaine and me."

Michael colored. "I'm afraid I can't go to the theater Tuesday evening—I forgot—I—"

Lonnie smiled sardonically and shook his head. "No, you haven't got anything else to do Tuesday evening!"

Hutchinson and Gibney

Michael, his anger rising, threw down his napkin in disgust. "What in the hell do you want to get them together for?"

The other man was unperturbed. "Keep your shirt on, old thing."

He was silent for a moment as he gazed intently into Michael's eyes. Then he went on, his voice more sympathetic: "Mike, I just want to help you straighten out this heart tangle you have gotten yourself into."

Michael tugged out his cigarette case and nervously began to smoke. "I don't see how in the devil you expect that sort of an arrangement to help. Well, I'm not going."

Lonnie shrugged. "All right, Lilah is my guest, and I'll get a substitute for you. I don't think she'll mind."

He shrugged as if the matter was settled.

Michael's eyes flamed. What did he mean? Was this an insinuation? He smiled mirthlessly.

"I know you're just trying to help, but I wish you wouldn't." He smoked on in silence. When he had dashed out the last embers against the ash-tray, he spoke again: "The fact is—I'm not in doubt any more."

New interest lighted in Lonnie's gaze. "I'm going to marry Lilah. I'm sure of myself. I was an ass to say I wasn't. I love her more than anything in the world."

For a moment their eyes looked into each other's souls; but only Lonnie was able to read what he saw there. His gaze shifted thoughtfully, then returned. "I'm glad, Mike." They left their table a few minutes later.

"There is no reason for calling off the party, now that I've made the arrangements and got the tickets," Lonnie said.

Michael halted. "But you don't understand—"

He paused. Lonnie was right. If he knew his heart there was no reason for him to be afraid. He believed that he knew his heart. "All right, I'll go. I've been wanting to see 'Arms and the Man' ever since I read it. Shaw is a comical cuss, isn't he?"

"World's greatest comedian," Lonnie responded.

Each's mind was upon the same thing as they walked away after parting, and that thing was not Shaw. (To be continued.)
